Warren High School
Warren, Michigan

Student Growth Builds New School

Warren, Michigan recently was proclaimed the fastest growing community in the United States. Accompanying this title has progressed a rapid "face lifting" of Warren. The fields and ancient buildings have been replaced by modern industries and homes. The old gave way to the new.

Warren High (left) has felt the effects greatly. With the new homes came new students. In the last two years the enrollment has increased from 805 to 1205 students. Halls and classrooms began "splitting at the seams". The administration recognized the enormous need for a new school and Cousino High (below) went from the sketchboard to a fulfilled reality.

Distinguished Principal of Warren to Leave

Twenty-two years of faithful, dedicated service to Warren High will end in June with the retirement of Albert E. Bever, who has served as principal of Warren High for the past 20 years.

Mr. Bever, born in Indiana, attended Wayne State University, Central Michigan University, and the University of Michigan, from which he received his Master's in Secondary Administration.

Because of his help and encouragement, the students of Warren High will remember Mr. Bever as a man who established a superior, accredited school. Little is known about the important role he played in obtaining these distinctions for Warren High. He is now one of the five members on the North Central accrediting board.

A former teacher at Warren High, Miss Irene Angus, is quoted as saying, "He always wanted a good school in a good community and acted as a balance wheel between the teacher and the community."

His presence among us will always be felt, and with deepest respect we dedicate the 1963 Warrenite to Albert E. Bever.

Mr. Bever's activities vary from administrative duties . . .

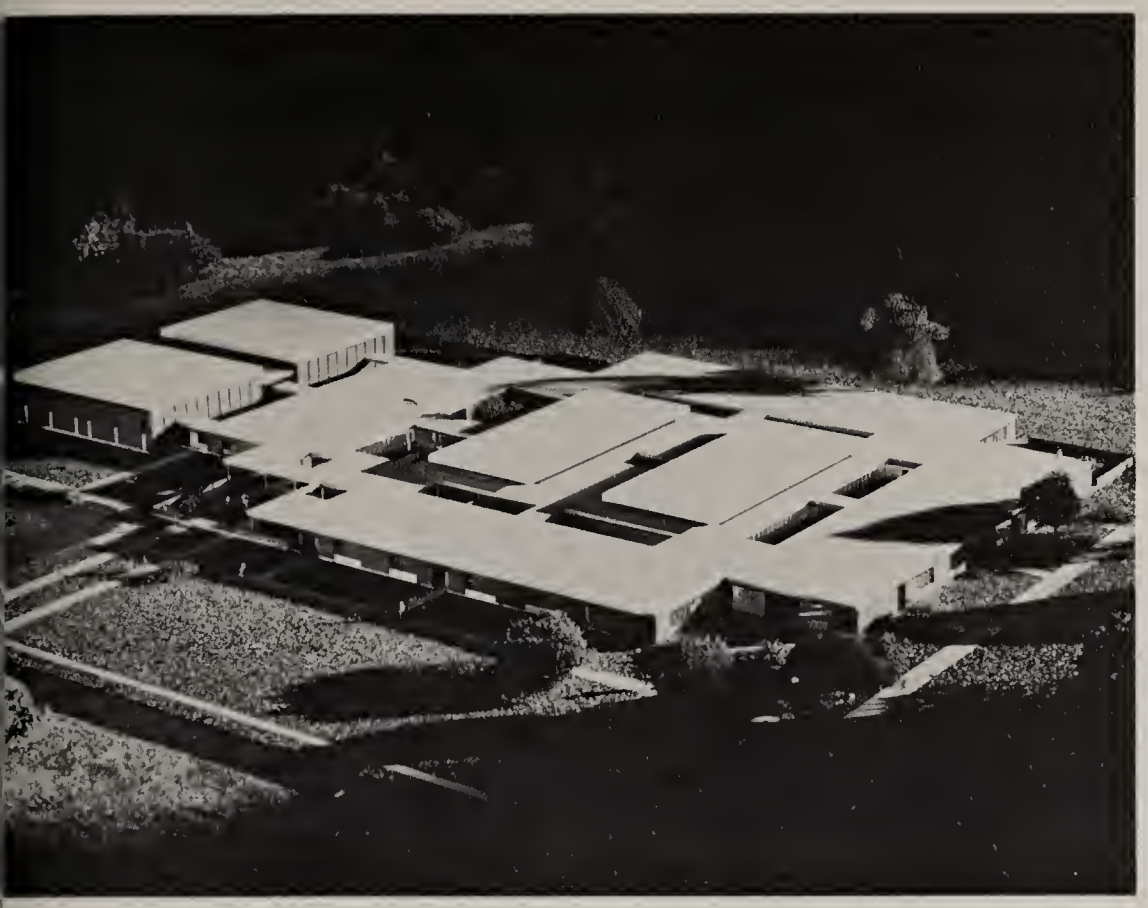
Van Dyke and 13 Mile Road was the site of the Saint Francis of Xavier Convent for many years. Then in 1959 the General Motors Corporation purchased the land for their Ternstedt Division.

Under the Surface of Today Lies Yesterday

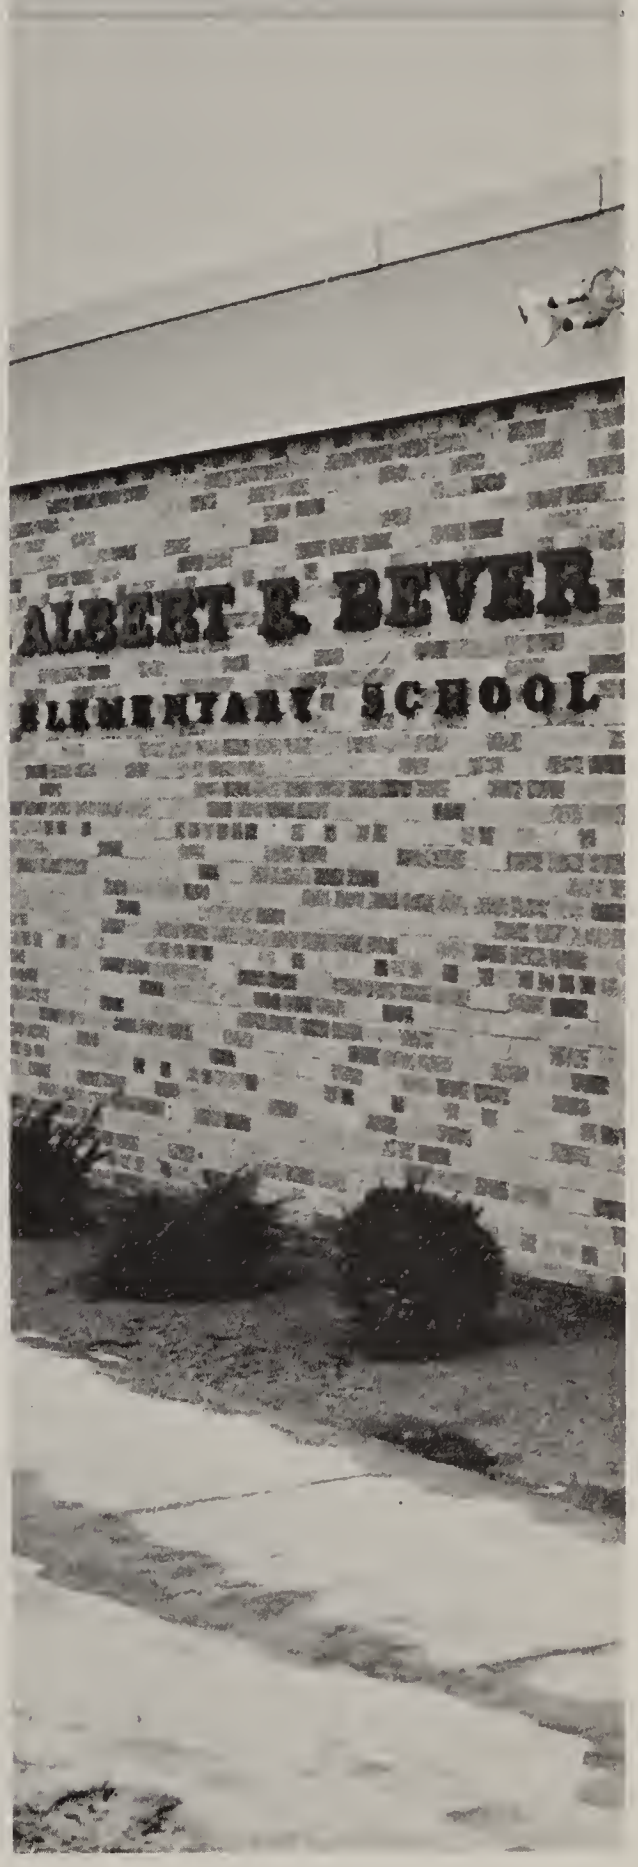
Warren is a city torn between the past and the future. With the enormous transition of city people to the "country," Warren has emerged as a vast suburbia. The old landmarks have been torn down and replaced by factories, houses and schools. The community has taken on a new face in the past several years. Those who have lived in the "village" Warren will recall the buildings shown on this and the following pages. These may be named the "remember when" pages.

Adding to the beauty of Warren's General Motor Technical Center is the Ternstedt Division.

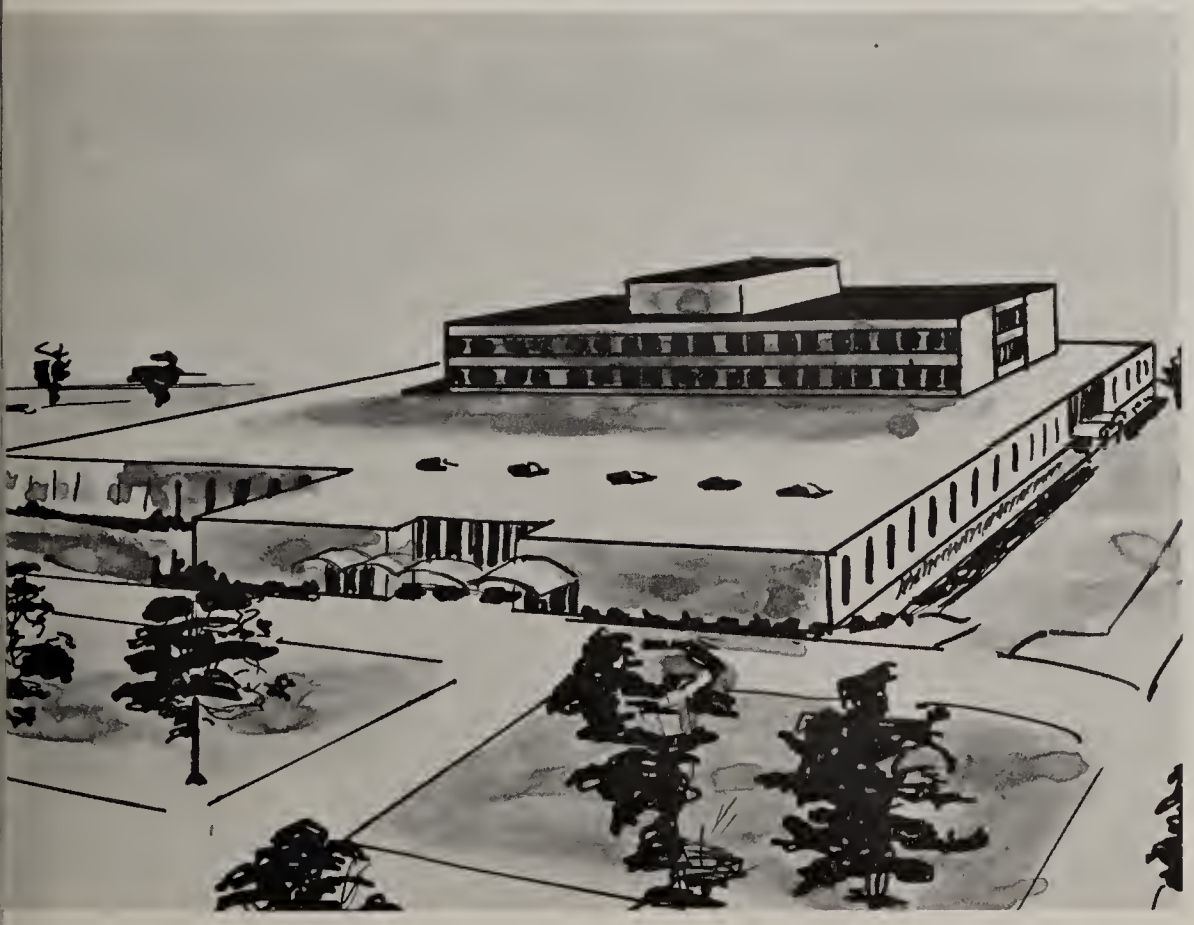


Plans have been put into action as a new junior high starts construction.

The new Albert Bever Elementary School held its first sessions last September.

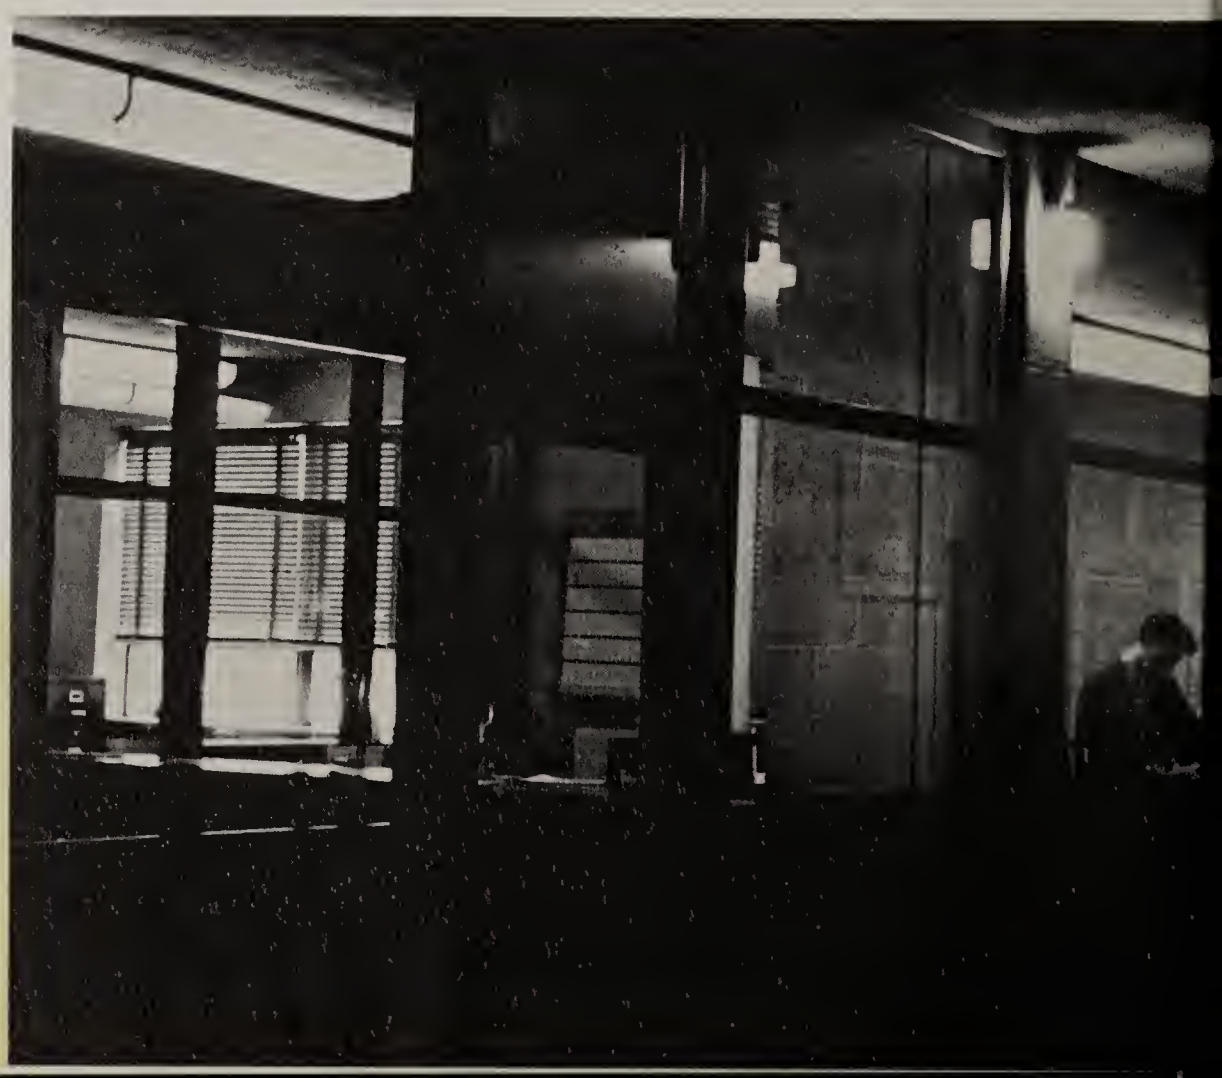


The goal is a new $4 million, 200-bed osteopathic hospital which will provide adequate facilities for medical, surgical, obstetrical and pediatric service, as well as general service facilities, including dietary, laboratory, x-ray, operating rooms, pharmacy, and central supply on a voluntary, non profit basis.



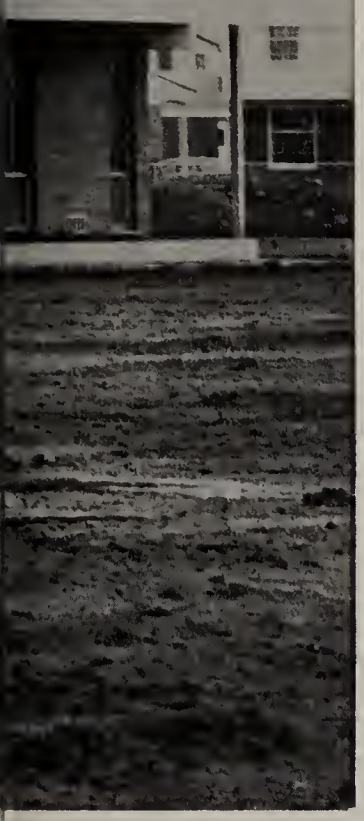
The new Administration Building houses all Warren Consolidated Schools' central administration and business offices.

The School Board deemed necessary the construction of an Administration Building to accommodate the school records. For many years the Administrative Office had been located in the high school. With the building completed, a major shift of offices occurred. The Administrative Office, of course, went to the Administration Building. The empty space at the school was then filled by the high school office. Following these two moves the Counseling Center reestablished itself in the former high school office. To ease the classroom shortage a classroom was built where the Center had been.



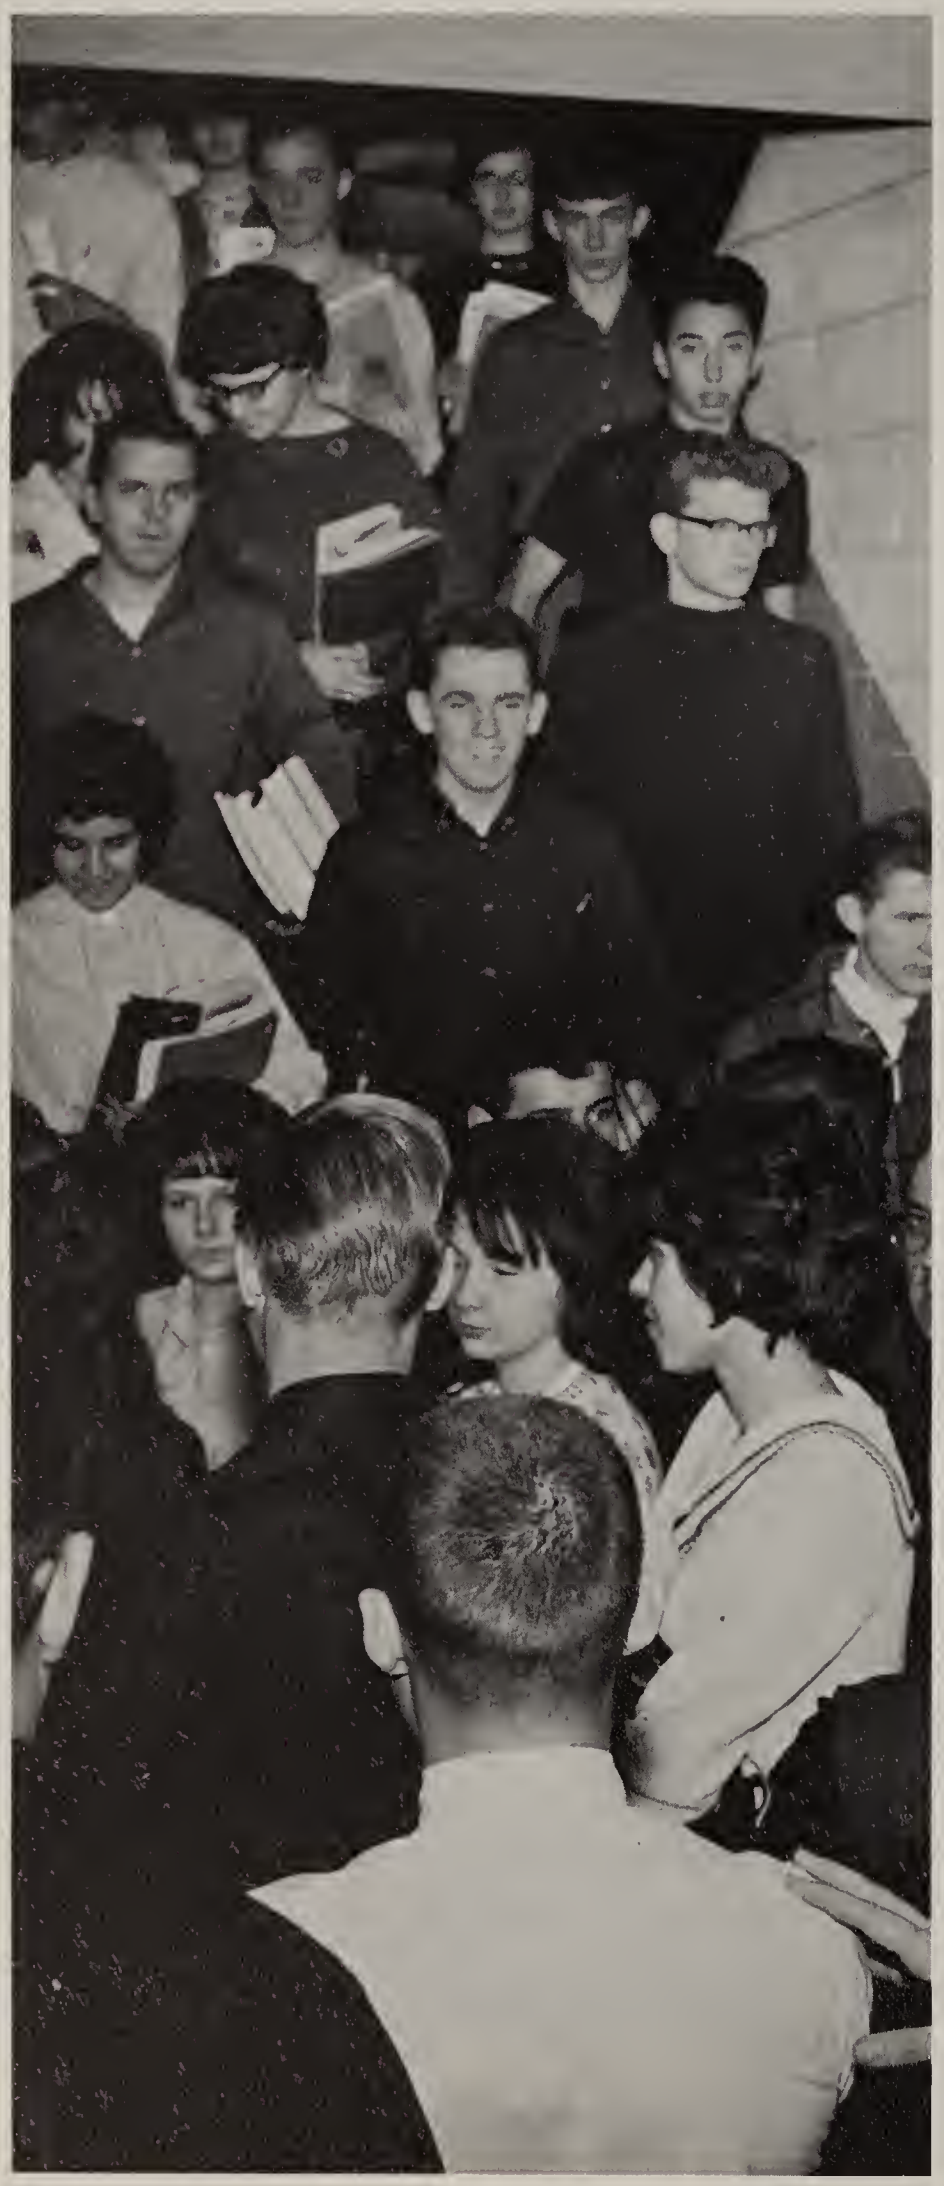
These few rooms in the corner of Warren High School were once the administrative center.

The Present Is Mere Grass,
Quick-Mown Away



Top: The Counseling Office is the stopping place for many college-bound students. Bottom: The dramatics class now occupies the old Center.

From Storage Room to Classroom



The crowded conditions of the hall (left) and the classroom (below) illustrate Warren High's rapid growth. Old storage rooms, bookstores, and the counseling center have been converted into classrooms to provide the needed space. Still this is not adequate with an average of 27 new students every marking period.

The area surrounding the school has taken on a new look also. At the right is a typical scene from several years ago, students boarding their busses in front of the school. Notice the small number of busses as compared to the many now in the system (right), also the vast empty fields in the background.

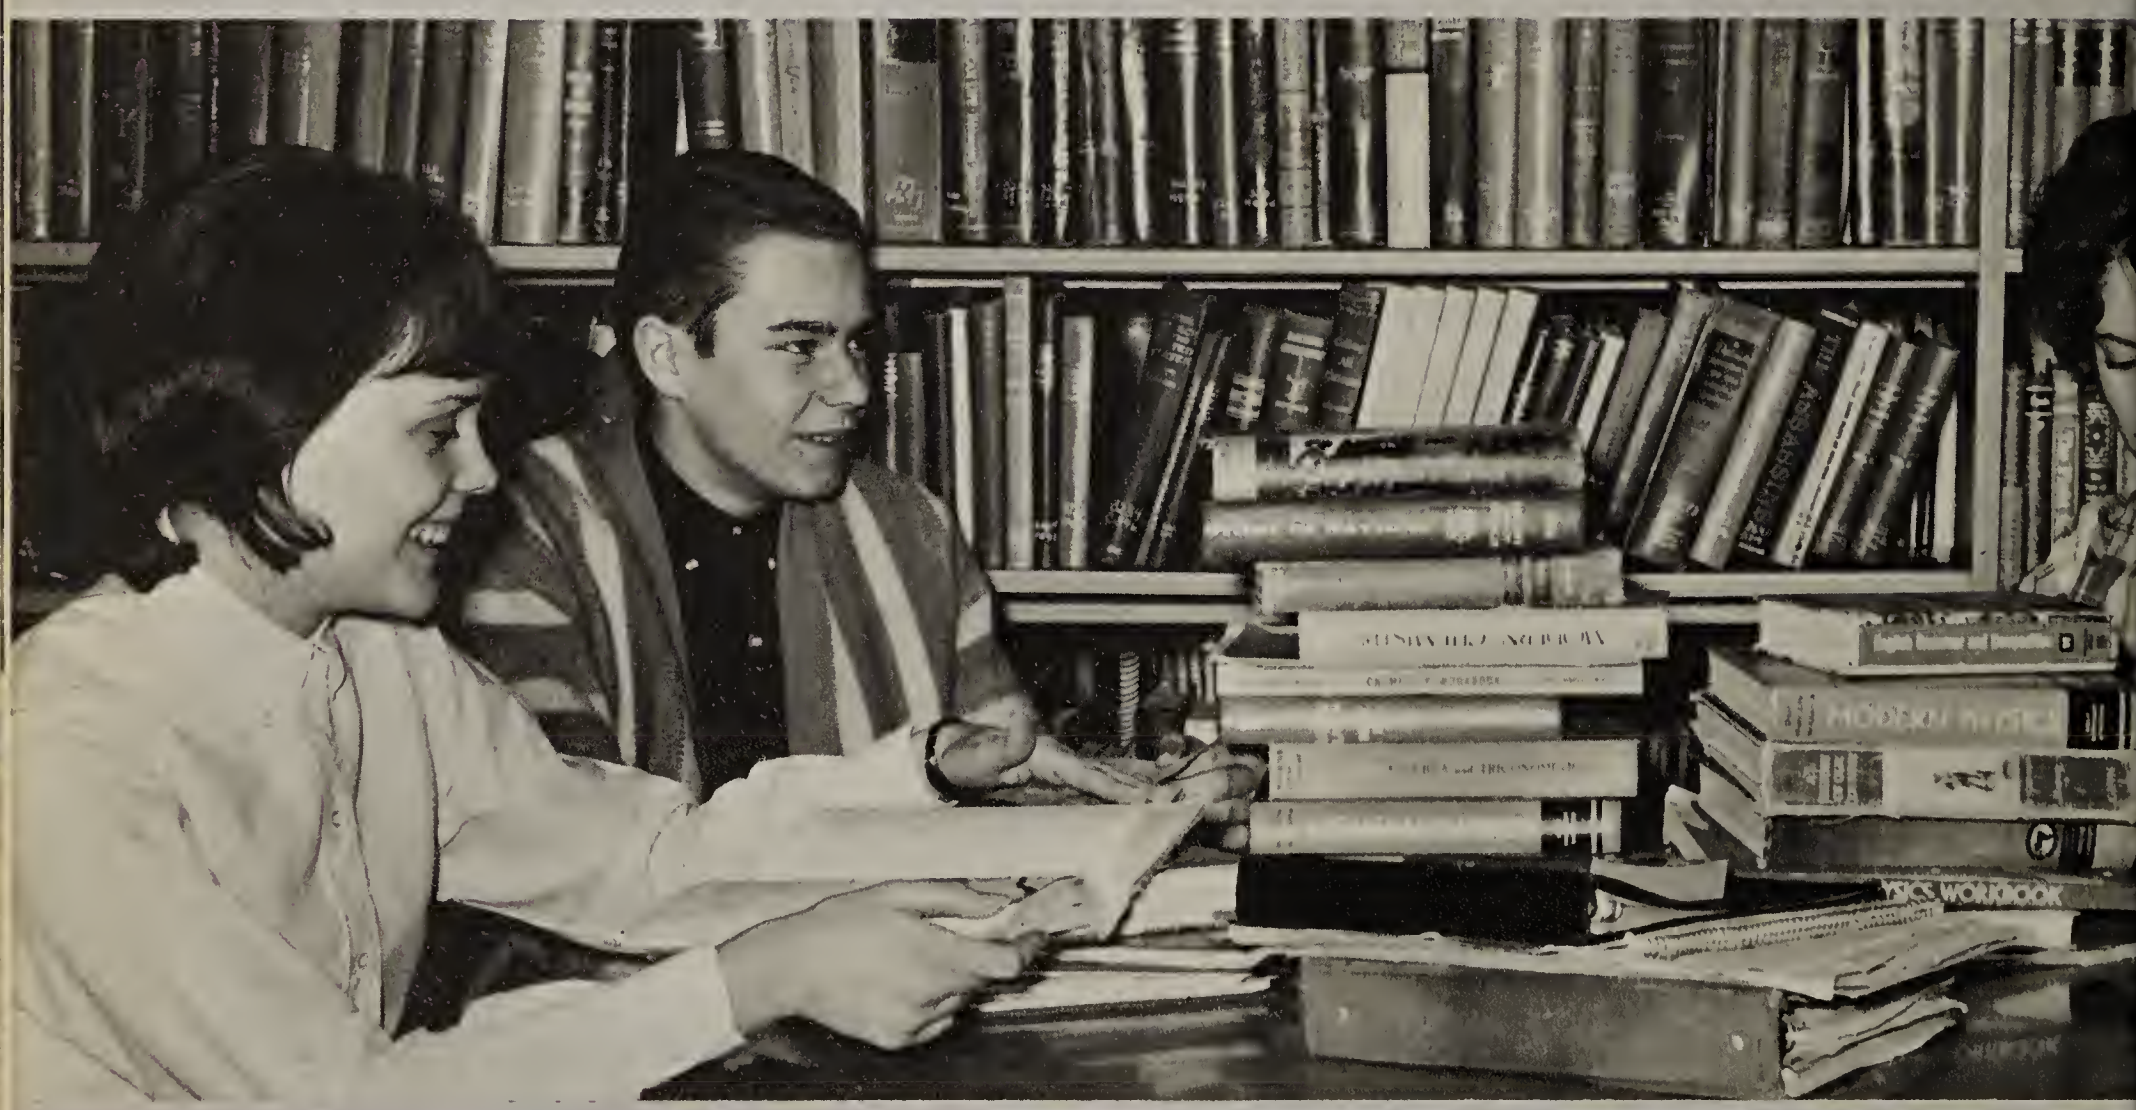
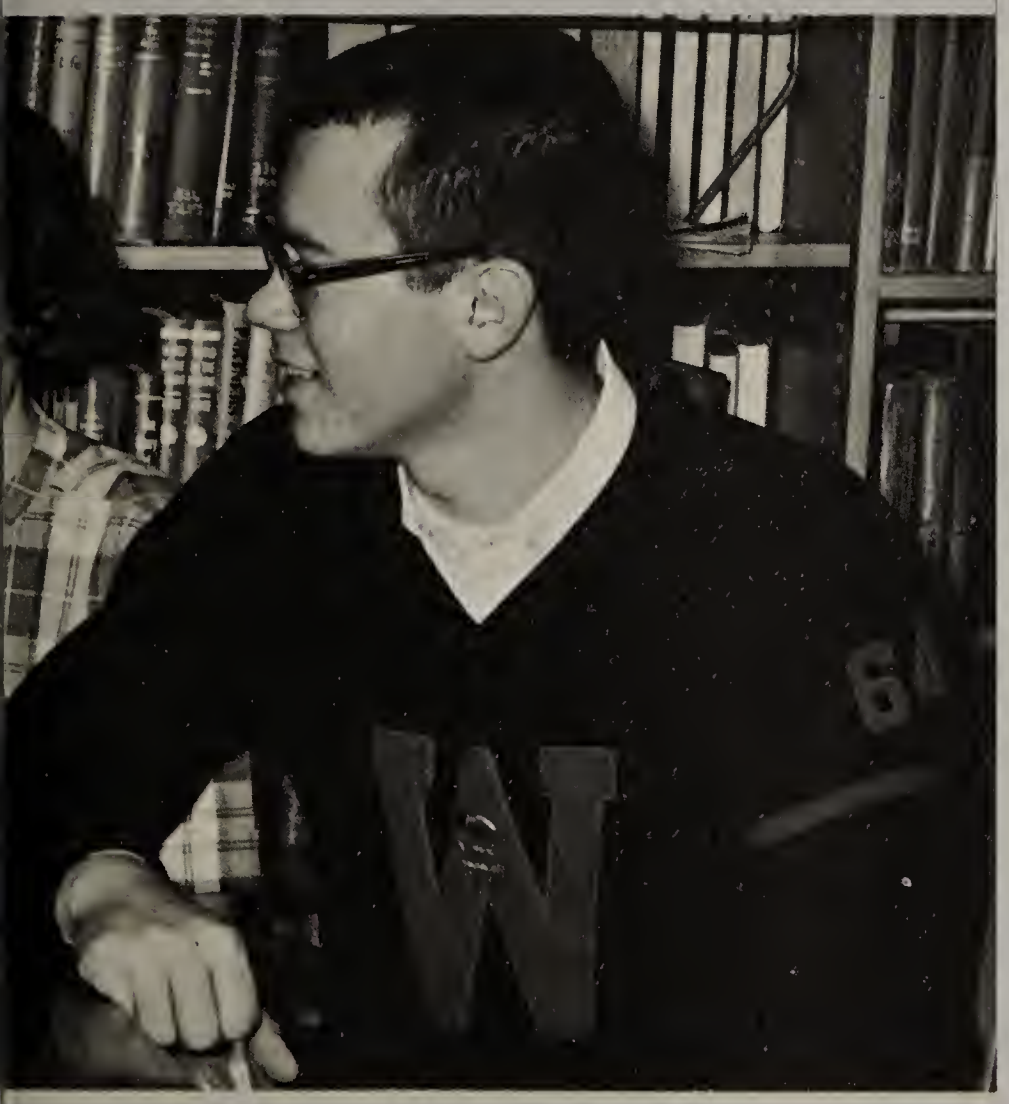
Additional Students; Increased Classes; More Faculty





To the sophomores entering the building for the first time, high school seemed to be a bewildering adventure into the unknown. The schedules had courses on them that sounded like college classes, not like the ones students had elected the year before. There were the few kids who fell for the old "elevator pass" gag — but no one really minded because this was high school.

Juniors took over the main hall post at the "down" stairs. At first the seniors were offended. Then, when they realized that the added students caused such a congestion at this spot, they decided to let the juniors stay.

Faculty increased and changed so rapidly that students knew only a few of the many teachers in the building. Class enrollments increased and possibilities were aired for new courses next year. With more students and teachers the competition for learning increased — giving us a livelier, more active school.

Mr. Valade checks files for possible summer job placements.

Mr. Peterman and Mrs. Beer discuss college applications.

Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Troutman, the school secretaries, keep the main office and club records in order.

Mr. Bever and Mr. Eschenburg, our principal and assistant principal, have duties that range from checking reasons for absences, to making sure the academic schedule maintains high standards, to discussing personal problems with students, or even to promoting school spirit. They keep constant checks on school facilities and activities. They can be kind, understanding, harsh, or nerve-wracking — as the situation demands. Above all, they are concerned with making our school a better institution for promoting the learning process.

The counseling staff backs up the principal's work by dealing directly with all students. They are concerned not only with the preparations of college-bound coeds but also of those students that have jobs waiting for them or who must find a place of employment upon graduation. The counselors help the sophomores set up their schedules, the juniors keep up with their classes, the seniors with their preparations for the future years. Every so often they meet with various alumni and give them further assistance with their problems. Mr. Bever, Mr. Eschenburg, Mrs. Beer, Mr. Valade, and Mr. Peterman are always waiting and seeking students who need any type of assistance.

The Board of Education, which regulates most of the school operations includes (front row) W. Ahrens, E. Dreslinski, W. Brown and (back row) W. Davidson, N. Miller, C. Webster, O. Hartsig.

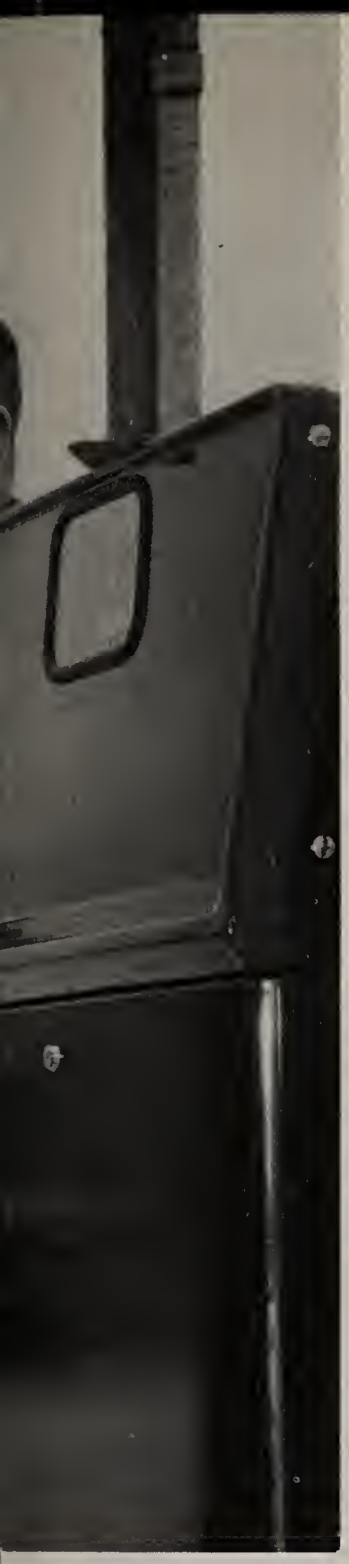
This year Mrs. Aud took over the position of school nurse.

Barbara Larck, Rosemary Lee, and Emma Maly served as school cooks this year.



Service Personnel:

Aid to Students

People often seen but rarely appreciated by most students are the service personnel that make up the backbone of the school.

The bus drivers are always there to bring students to and from the buildings. Whenever there is a special trip to be taken, they are one of the first to be contacted. They are generally taken for granted until through some clerical mix-up they don't appear — then students realize very little can be done without a few drivers.

Every night the custodial staff sweeps up the mess that we have left in the school — leaving it clean for the next day's session.

One of Mrs. Florence Cencich's daily tasks as school matron is to clean the mirrors.

Mr. Ed Wells assists delivery men in unloading various supplies.

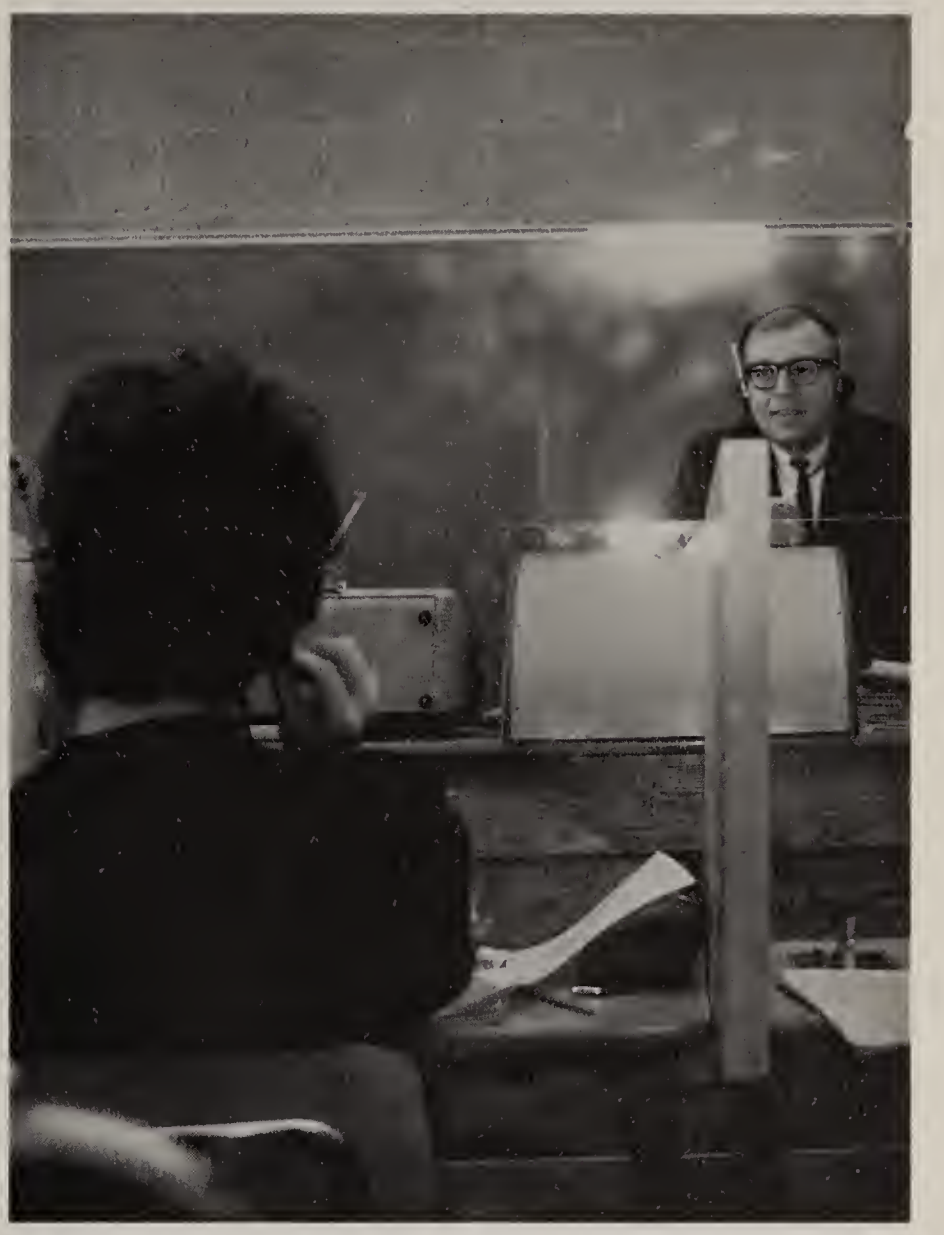
Biology, French Start Sophomores Toward College

The college preparatory course, which boasts in its curriculum a two-year course in biology and three years of a foreign language (French or Latin), gives the sophomores the start they need for more advanced studies.

French students learn not only the mechanics of the language but also how to speak it fluently. Use of the language laboratory provides assistance for advanced students or students desiring aid in learning the language.

Sophomore class officers include Nick Guitar (vice-pres.), Tom Brant (pres.), Mr. Arnfield (sponsor), Pam Iseppi (sec.), and Sam Cupp (treas.).



Mr. Kowalczyk carries on a conversation in French through the use of modern laboratory equipment.

Getting acquainted with the high school was the first and most important activity carried on by the Sophomore Class. After several weeks of getting lost and being late for classes, the sophomores finally became used to their new environment.

The sophomores were the initiators of Orange and Black Day on which the students of Warren came to school wearing the school colors. A skating party was held during the winter months to help unify the sophomores through a class activity. A school-wide dance was later planned by the Sophomore Class and given on May 24.

By the time the year was over the sophomores proved to be an active class full of ambition and enthusiasm. Extra-curricular activities were not, however, the extent of the interest of the sophomores. Their studies played a valuable part in the year's events.

Sophomore English classes are required to write a term paper on a topic which interests them. Doing research work for their papers are Dave Hicks and Nancy Prawdzik.

Sophomore Requirements:

Physical Education,

After learning the basics of swimming, girls try some simple dives.

Building a competitive spirit is of prime importance in both classes. Boys have to display exceptional teamwork in such activities as volleyball.

Gym classes work as groups and individually to strengthen muscles and gain co-ordination. Weight lifting is a popular activity.

Sciences, English

To further their knowledge of the mathematical sciences, sophomore students usually elect either Algebra I and II or Geometry I and II as a course.

Just as all sophomores are required to take English, they must take a physical education course. Sports are combined in the gym with regular swimming classes. Activities in physical education vary from bowling, basketball, and tennis to tumbling or running track. Whenever weather permits, classes are held outdoors. In the winter the double gymnasium houses the classes.

Band Poses for General Motors Photographers

This year the marching band performed during halftime of the football games. The height of their season came when they played for homecoming celebrations. The band also played for varied assemblies, including Honor Society inductions and, along with the Orchestra, in the Spring Concert.

To finance their uniforms the band sells chocolate candy every year. Added revenue came when the General Motors Tech Center paid them to come over and pose for advertising pictures. Prints of the photos were later presented to the department.

Art Club

Furthers Interests

This year individual projects created new emphasis in the art program. All fourth year students were given the opportunity to exhibit their art work from the last four years within the display window in the department.

The newly formed Art Club has given art students a chance to further their artistic interests. With the guidance of Mr. Gerald Baysinger and Mr. Dan Hudson, the Art Club has become an active organization at WHS. Ohio Art Institute was just one of the many field trips that the club went on during the year. The newly elected officers are starting the club on a mosaic which will show the growth of Warren from the time it existed as a swamp-marsh to the present.

Bob Pindos helps make scenery for the Popular Concert.

Before he begins Bill makes a detailed sketch and color arrangement of his proposed painting.

Art Club officers Sherry Lingle (vice-president), Nancy Cook (secretary), Kathy DeMeere (president) and Betty Klein (treasurer) discuss plans for the club's mosaic with sponsors Mr. Hudson and Mr. Baysinger.

After the work with the palette knife is completed, finishing touches are applied with the use of an oil brush.

The Junior year is exciting and busy. Many activities and preparations for the senior year occur then — the class meetings in the auditorium, deciding the date of the Junior-Senior Prom and planning for it, selecting class colors, ordering rings and sweaters. Along with the hustle and bustle of school life comes the enjoyable hours spent at class parties, such as the skating-pizza party which proved to be such a great success this year. Many will remember the long hours spent practicing and rehearsing the Junior Play, "Anne of Green Gables." If one could judge on the basis of past experiences then the Junior Class should be an up and coming one in more than one sense

Commercial World — Typewriters, Adding Machines

Technical knowledge along with accuracy and speed in work are all factors which add up to success in the business world. Such classes as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, secretarial practice, and merchandising are the subjects which help students acquire the much needed knowledge. Application of this knowledge in daily assignments gives the students practical experience.

Busy working is Linda Radyko who is taking a daily speed test, which is an important part of second year typing.

Practice in typing develops speed and skill. Doing a daily assignment are two first year typing students Connie Pachowski and Kathy Overbaugh.

Mechanical Arts for Building

Classes offered in mechanical arts include Metal Shop, Wood Shop, Mechanical Drawing, Architectural Drawing, General Shop, Basic Electronics, and Blueprint Reading. Students' interests vary from those who wish to learn how to do odd jobs "around the house" to those who plan to make a career for themselves in a field of mechanical arts. Many of the boys will find they have a strong background for trade school work. College-bound students will find many classes easier to comprehend because of benefits received from industrial arts classes offered at our high school.

"Anne of Green Gables" Poses Dramatic Problems

Ricki Sterling finds a few extra moments to practice her lines for the play.

Mr. Lampinen explains the dramatic mood for a sequence with Joseph Smith, Joyce Freeman, and Donna Boshell.

Every year the Junior Class puts on a play to help finance the Junior-Senior Prom. "Anne of Green Gables" was selected as this year's production. The setting was a rural community where a couple decided to adopt a child. Instead of receiving the boy they wanted, a young girl arrived as their "child-to-be" and the ensuing incidents made up the plot of the story.

Mr. Lampinen was the director with Linda Price helping him as student director. Stage crew did the work on the set and the make-up on the actors and actresses. Antique furniture for the scenery was obtained from the Salvation Army.

The climax of the play came during Saturday night's performance when part of the set fell on Joyce Freeman's head. In true dramatic spirit Pat MacKenzie added a line on "how bad the termites are around this place."

"Defeat Lurking in the Shadow of Triumph"

Indian Summer ushered in the school year's first sport . . . football. Basketball followed the gridiron battles and this year our gym grew in size, for the old stage was gone and in its place were bleachers with a capacity to seat 100 more people. Meanwhile the tankers were meeting stiff competition at every turn in the pool. Before the snow left the ground entirely track and baseball had swung into full force.

Sportsmanship, teamwork, and spirit are learned in sports. These are not only a great help for the physical well being of an individual but sports brings about a common cause for the student body — they want their team to do its best. In order for the team to accomplish this, the student body must grow in sportsmanship, be a unified group, and support the team in all events, win or lose.

The coach and the team must grow in unity and strength, for a team needs a coach, a coach needs a team, and a player needs his teammates.

Reviewing sports for 1962-63 brings back many memories, so let's start with football . . .

Constant Practice, Good Advice,

A quick powerful line averaging 185 pounds and a fleet backfield foursome made up the 1962 Warren football team. Under the competent leadership of Coach Steve Nowak and Assistant Coach Joe Hovanec, our gridiron team battled its way to a 4-4 season.

One of the outstanding defensive games this year was against the Lakeview Huskies. Three different times the Huskies ran the ball inside the Warren three-yard line without penetrating the Orioles' defense. Then in the fourth quarter, with less than 30 seconds remaining, quarterback Bob Studer threw a long, high pass into the endzone to halfback Larry White for the 6-0 victory.

The Lakeview game was just an example of the teamwork shown throughout the entire season. From these games, Larry White, Russ Humphery, and John Byers were elected to the Bi-County League, and Mike Speare and Larry Farhat were awarded Honorable Mention.

Tension was evident Homecoming night when the Orioles hosted their arch rival, Center Line. Pulling forward to make that first down, halfback Larry White (10) is being rushed by (33) and (35) who are ready to end his 11-yard gain.

Between Warren and Center Line the pigskin really traveled that cold night. It was a touch-and-go game right up to the end. It looks like Jerry Moore (15) is going to be tackled but he slips away from (57) and sprints another nine yards.

Warren Unleashes Manpower

Utica's right halfback (87) had just caught a pass near midfield and was on his way to complete a 27-yard pass play. Larry White (10) and Ron Millican (19) downed him on the Warren nine-yard line.

"Now on this play I want Larry Farhat and Dave Byers to pull out fast so I can see some downfield blocking." During practice Larry Farhat, Mike Speare, Dave Byers, John Schutzler, and Chuck Ford listen as Line Coach Hovanec points out certain procedures he wants his linemen to follow. The result of Coach Hovanec's advice was clearly shown two nights later when the Warren Orioles defeated Southlake, 18-0.

Warren was moving slowly until Bob Studer threw a pass to Larry White (10) who caught the ball at the midfield stripe and went to the Chieftains' 28 yard line before being caught from behind by (20).

Grid Series Finish 2-4-2

Utica's defense put up a hard wall against Warren, and Utica wasn't about to let the Orioles make any yardage, but on the Chieftain's 38-yard line a 19-yard pass completed to Jerry Laughunn (35) put the Orioles on the Chieftains' 14-yard line and in position for a touchdown.

Fundamental skills acquired through game experience by this year's Junior Varsity Team, coached by Mr. John Klang and Assistant Coach Kenneth Hamlet, should prove very valuable when the JV's reach the varsity squad.

Losing four out of eight games does not tell the complete story of the Orioles' team. As the season progressed they showed continued improvement.

During the Lakeview game Warren's offense and defense played one of their best games. The Orioles' offense ran up a tally of 33 points while the defense outcharged the Huskies' squad and held them scoreless through the entire game.

At the end of the '62 season the squad selected players for various honors. They are.

Utica had a tough team and the Warren Orioles found themselves in a few tight spots. Halfback Tim Fraylick (19) seems to be closed in on all sides by the Chieftains but he sprinted through a hole between (29) and (22) to make a gain and a first down.

Tim Fraylick (19), running behind Jerry Langhunn (35), goes through his favorite hole at right tackle in the fourth quarter and gains 18 yards on the play.

Queen for a Day

Riding on the Honor Society float are Kathy Veramay, Sue Knight, Queen Carol Sieradzki, Diane Bailey, and Sue Ann Horn.

Smiles and tears were seen as Diane Van Haverbeck, Homecoming Queen for 1961, relinquished her crown to her successor, Carol Sieradzki.

Interclass competition for floats this year was based on TV themes. The Junior Class won first place with their "NBC Peacock"; "Sing Along With Mitch" presented by the Senior Class was second. "The Beverly Hillbillies" entered by the Sophomore Class was third, and the Thespians float, "The Flintstones," placed first in club competition.

After the game, Queen Carol and her court, accompanied by their escorts, reigned over the semi-formal dance which was sponsored by W-Club and decorated by the cheerleaders. The Court, alumni and guests were entertained by the Tempests. The theme for the dance was "Queen for a Day."

Class A District Champs

Coach Cosmo Plotts' Warren Orioles added icing to their second place league standing as they downed Hazel Park and Troy to take their Class A district championship.

In the tourney opener against Hazel Park, Warren had control of the ball during most of the game. The Orioles had a good shooting percentage, good outside shots, and were strong on the backboards. As the seconds ticked away the Orioles Five tallied up a 65-50 victory.

The Orioles couldn't miss a basket as they pumped in a five-point lead at the end of the second quarter against Troy, 30-25. Warren had to protect its lead as the Colts came back in the third quarter to close the wide gap. The fourth quarter found Troy six points up on Warren, but with 10 seconds remaining in the game Larry Salci sank a pair of free throws to sew up the game, 51-47.

At the beginning of the season, Warren pulled off a prized upset in the opening non-league game when they won over favored Highland Park. From there the Orioles battled their way through league competition, winning 13 and losing only three.

From Warren, Frank Goodish and Larry Salci made all Bi-County and Larry was voted most valuable player in the league.

"The team had good pull this season," stated Coach Plotts, "and it was partly due to the improvement of Larry Salci who made 253 points and Bob Pinkos who hit 102. Frank Goodish also put in another good season. Everyone did a fine job."

Taking a running jump shot inside the key, Bob Pinkos (10) tallies up two more points in the game against Utica. The Chieftains held a tight rein on the ball but Warren added two points when John Schutzler (50) made a hook shot inside the free throw lane in the last few seconds of play.

In the last few seconds of play, John Schutzler (50) and Ferndale's (53) battle for a rebound.

Meeting Ferndale, Class A state champs, at Ferndale, in the regional opener, proved to be too much for Warren.

"They had strong board men," commented Coach Plotts, "and they took the game on freethrows."

Halftime found the Eagles 10 points up on Warren, 24-34, but Warren's cagers weren't about to give up, and late in the third quarter the Orioles closed the gap, 34-36.

In the fourth quarter the Eagles pulled away and kept a wide lead over Warren. As the final seconds ticked away Warren closed tournament play with the score 45-62.

Under the basket, Tom Brant (10) goes up for a lay-up. Ed Lang (50) and Al Capello wait in case a rebound is needed.

J.V.'s Surge Ahead

Blazing through the season, the Orioles Five, coached by Mr. Jack December, ended league play with a commendable record of 13 wins and three losses.

Losing their opening game to non-league Highland Park, the squad fired back to beat L'Anse Creuse and continued with a 10-game winning streak, losing only two league games, one to Lakeshore, and one to Lakeview.

The J.V.'s played one of their best games against Lakeview. Their shooting agility and strong defense was seen throughout the season but it was highlighted in this game. Warren was behind by 10 points but in the last five minutes of play came up to win the game, 57-55.

"This was one of the best seasons I've had," exclaimed Coach December. "Al Capello scored over 200 points and Terry Etnyer and Tom Brant made over 140 points each. Tim Fraylick and Steve Schwan really did a fine job on the backboards and on defense. We had the go right to the end."

Always on the Go

Pre-game warmups find the cheerleaders doing chants. There is at least 10 minutes before play starts to get the crowd enthused and yelling.

Six bouncing, energetic cheerleaders were seen at every game, sereaming, cheering and inspiring the students. The Oriole erowd probably would have yelled without the eheerleaders' help but they were needed to eontrol and to ehannel this enthusiasm at the right time and in the right way.

The girls were pieked in the spring of 1962 and worked together throughout the summer, planning and seeking new formations and yells.

During the year they learned many new things and passed on many ideas to the student body. Working with the varsity eheerleaders they helped to bring sehool spirit and support into the sehool.

During time out the cheerleaders perform, using skill and formation which came from long hours of practice.

"Orange Fight," a new cheer, is executed by Ingrid Grass, Pam Liseppi, Pat Kotovich, Marcy Janis, Judy Timmer, and Carolyn DeMeere.

Girls Plus Sports Equal Self-Improvement

GAA is organized to stimulate interest in girls' sports and to offer a chance for self-improvement, skill, leadership, and social contact.

Throughout the year there are many activities from which to choose. These activities include basketball, baseball, tennis, bowling, swimming, badminton, field hockey, modern dance and many others. Any girl is eligible for membership providing she takes an active part in an activity.

Part of GAA dealt with speed swimming. P. McKee, L. Runey, and M. Tuttle look on as L. Cosgrove, with the help of D. Myers, tries the starting position for the backstroke.

Modern dancing was another new activity added in the spring. Judi Karr poses for a group of girls as she explains the technique of a ballet position.

Orioles Bi-County Champions,

Warren's swimming team, coached by Mr. John Klang, took the Bi-County championship again this year. This is the third season the Tankers have captured this title. Surging through competition the Orioles wound up with a four - eight record, Bi-County, and fourth in the Invitational Tournament.

In diving, Earl Hole and Joe Klimowski came in first and second in the Bi-County, fourth and fifth in the Invitational, and between them took first in seven other meets.

Tom Moore broke the Macomb County record in the breaststroke and Larry Deel, Bob Verbal, Tom Moore and Mike Juengling broke the school record in the 200-yd. medley relay.

"The team was very strong in the medley relay, diving, butterfly, and the breaststroke," stated Coach Kling, "but fell down in the 400 and 200-yd. freestyle. We lacked potential but gained experience."

This being only the second year for Warren's J.V. swimming team, coached by Mr. John Klang, they found themselves in deep water. The team enthusiastically pulled together to face competition but sank low, ending the season with a record of two wins, three losses.

The tankers first met Livonia Franklin and came home with a win. Warren's efforts during the next three meets were shattered. Losing to Madison, Harper Woods, and Kimball, the team turned the tables and closed the season with a second victory over Livonia Franklin.

From the reserves three boys, Tom Trott, Ed Hayward, and Drew Newman swam in varsity meets.

Poised on the starting block ready for the sound of the gun, Tom Landrum waits to start his heat against Harper Woods.

Swimming the breaststroke, Don Knox touches at the end of his lap, and Tom Landrum takes over in the medley relay.

This will be the first year Warren has had varsity swimming cheerleaders. Last year they were not honored with varsity status but are now under the same constitution with the other cheerleaders.

Working out pep assemblies was only part of the responsibility placed on the shoulders of the cheerleaders. Creating new cheers and revising the old ones also kept these girls busy. Along with general cheerleading duties went the selling of tickets for swim meets, buses, and making posters for all these meets.

The year's duties and responsibilities were not, however, ended with the end of swimming season. In the spring the girls planned cheerleading tryouts and important objectives for the following year.

Discussing plans for next year, Joanne, Penny, Debby, and Paulette listen as Miss Mannino explains how much pom-poms will cost.

Many think track events are won on just the scores from running, but Bob Tollefson proves points from the 12-lb. Shot Put event are just as important when the final score is tallied up. Right, Jerry Messig hands off the baton to Larry White in the last stretch of the Half Mile Relay.

Keeping a good, even pace is essential in the Mile Relay, so Larry Salci runs a few stretches to loosen up before his heat is called.

Skill, stamina, speed, and a sense of competition are four essential qualities a boy out for track must have, and last year's Warren track team proved it had all four. Coached by Mr. Ray Dion and his assistant, Mr. Cosmo Plotts, our boys won their way right to the top, to tie for the 1962 Bi-County Championship.

From season meets, Warren had one school record broken and one tied. Bob Verbal broke the record in the 180 Low Hurdles with a time of 21.2. Larry White, Bob Verbal, Jerry Messig, and Tom Michaels, with a time of 1:34.5, tied the record in the Half Mile Relay.

At the end of the season Larry, Bob, Jerry, and Tom of the Half Mile Relay, represented Warren at the 1962 State Track Meet.

BI-COUNTY – TIE FOR FIRST

During practice Coach Ray Dion and Assistant Coach Cosmo Plotts look over the time chart before calling a second 220 timing.

Clearing the top of the 180-yd. low hurdles, Jim Rinke and Bob Verbal attempt to get their steps down pat before the coming meet.

'62 Champs, '63 Crown?

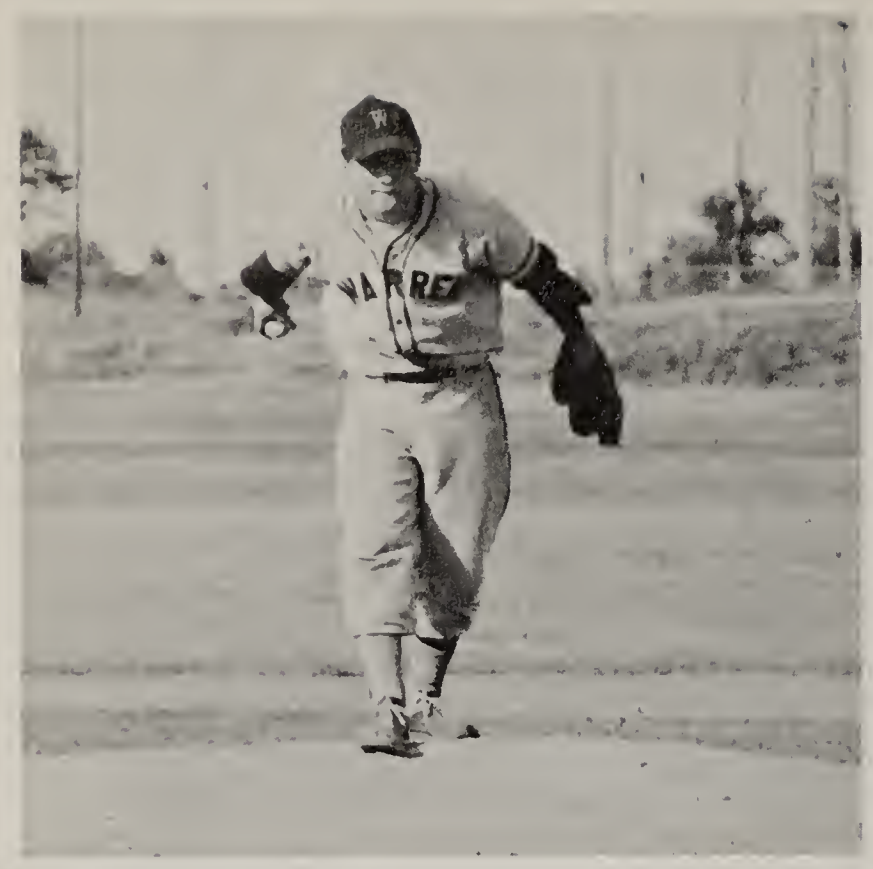
Gary Miller starts off in a slow trot, breaks into a run, hits the board, leaps into the air, and lands with a measured jump of 19' 10½".

Warren's track team ran the 1962 race for top honors in league competition and this year the Orioles are back with their sights on recapturing the bi-county crown.

With graduation claiming only four members of last year's team, this year's squad looks forward to repeating last year's performance.

"If positions left vacant by graduated seniors can be filled by returning lettermen from last year's squad," stated Coach Ray Dion, "and if these boys continue their outstanding performance, we should have a fine squad this season. Also, there will be some Junior Varsity boys coming up who have great potential. With these assets we should go all the way."

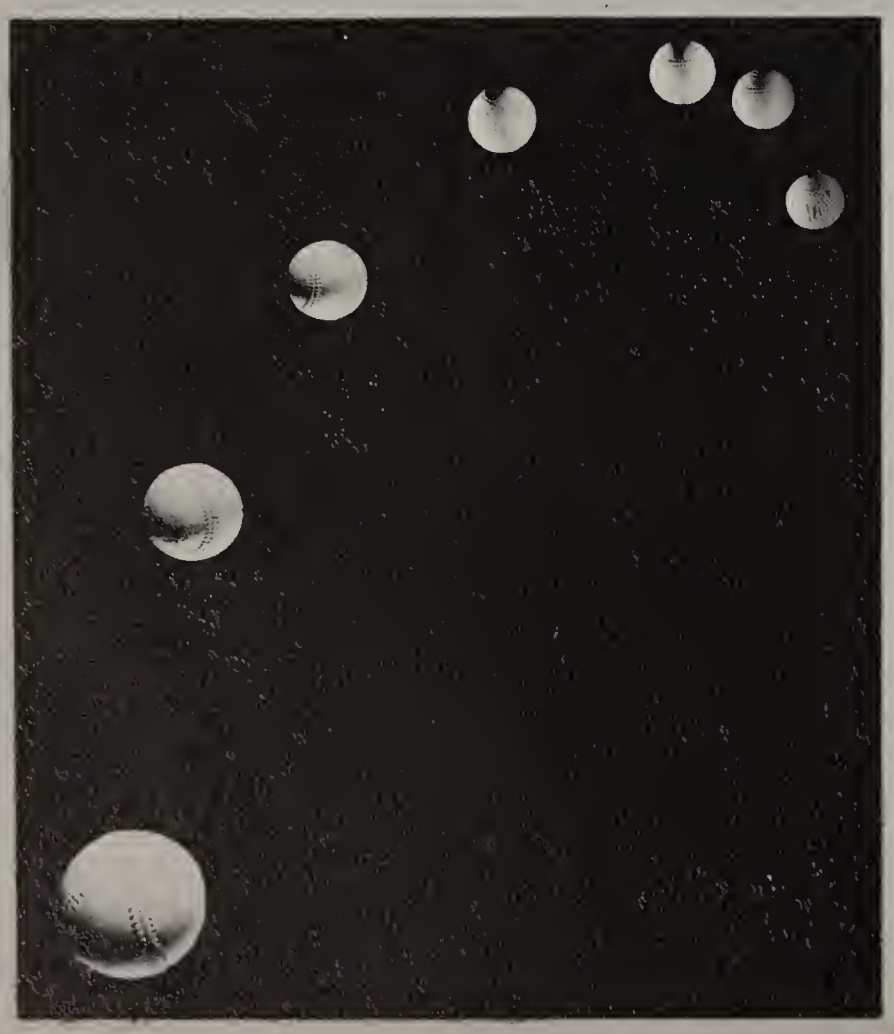
In the semi-finals at the Bi-County Meet, the wind was blowing against the runners, but even with this handicap Larry White put on a final burst of speed to place first in the 100-yd. Dash.



Mike Speare displays his windup and delivery in a one-hit performance against Fraser.

'62 Orioles Second,

Macomb County Invitational Tourney



Faced with a rough schedule, the 1962 Oriole baseball team, coached by Mr. Orton Melchoir, met tough contenders at every diamond to wind up the season with a team record of seven wins and seven losses.

Opening the season with a non-league game against Fitzgerald, Warren rounded the bases to slide home triumphant. Meeting Avondale next, the Orioles bagged the second non-league victory.

Then the Orioles met their first league defeat against Lakeview. During league competition they ran into difficulties. The team strained to pull ahead of rival contenders but ended up striking a low of one win and six losses in league competition.

However, after a slump in league play, Warren rallied to defeat three out of four contenders in the Macomb County Invitational Tournament. Striking out Roseville Sacred Heart, Warren squeezed by the tournament opener. Center Line St. Clements met a shattering defeat as Warren took the second game. Next Southlake fell to the Orioles' pitching strategy and Warren marked its third victory. Then in the final tourney play-off, Roseville handed Warren its first defeat to climax the Orioles' season with a 7-7 record and a second place in tournament competition.

'63 Bi-County Champs?

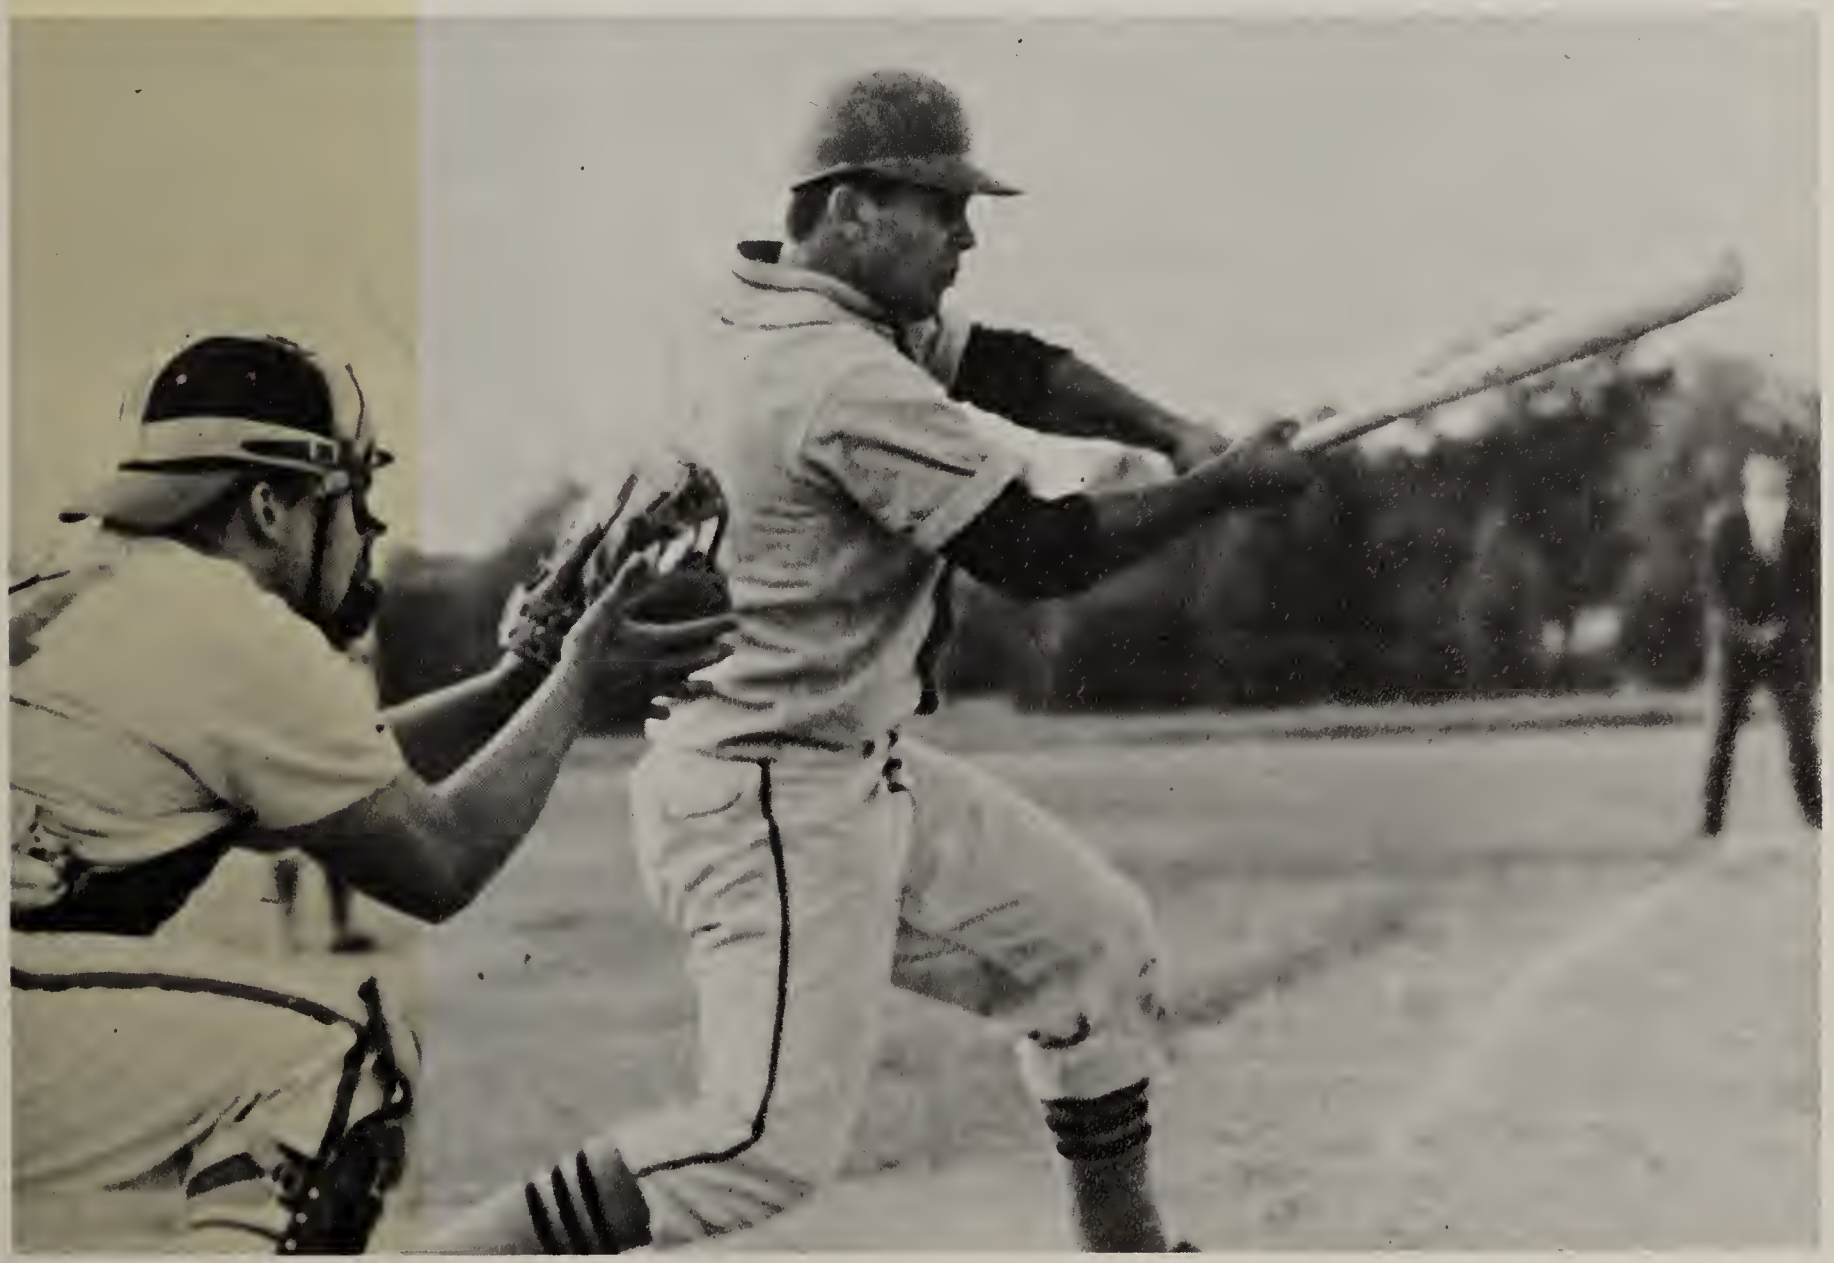
The '63 Oriole team, with a nucleus of 10 returning lettermen, looks forward to improvement on last season's 7-7 record.

"A number of sophomores and juniors up from last year's JV team will be pressing for starting berths," remarked Coach Melchoir, "so spirits should be high because of this competition for positions."

"Big factors in the success of this year's team will be developing consistent hitters and striving for team speed. Pitching and fielding, which were two of the bright spots of last year's team, will be our strong bids. This along with improved hitting points to what could be a highly successful season."

Larry Salci successfully beats the throw to first base on a close play, in a 5-4 victory, against Avondale.

During the final play-off against Roseville in the Macomb County Invitational, Gary May punches the ball toward right field for a hit.



"If you can't hear

At the close of summer practice sessions, football season, basketball season, and long hours of practice, six varsity cheerleaders looked back over the many days and hours they had put in. There was one primary goal in mind, to bring the student body and the players closer together in school spirit and school support.

Getting the students behind our players isn't an easy job. There are pep assemblies to plan, skits to work out, selling tickets for games, planning and presenting new cheers, decorating for the homecoming and special dances, supporting the team at all games, sore muscles, cold football nights, hoarse voices, hot gyms, criticisms, compliments, and the rewarding sound of students yelling with the cheerleaders for their team. These are the satisfactions a cheerleader receives at the end of a session.

To the three graduating cheerleaders, Lorraine Berak, Carol Sieradzki, and Kathy Veramay, there will be many memories — helping the girls in tryouts, seeing the faces of the new 1964 cheerleaders, and briefing them on all the many tasks that lay before them.

This year's squad was sponsored by Miss Carol Mannino and was led by Captain Carole Sieradzki.

Catching their breath between chants and cheers the cheerleaders wait to see if the freethrow will count. Then they're up again, starting a chant to get the students yelling. The final reward comes when they see they have inspired the students to support their team.

us we'll yell a little louder"

Locomotion, a new cheer which was presented to the students this year, is a favorite among many, especially the cheerleaders.

Showing their skill in formation, Kathy Veramay, Carol Sieradzki, Lorraine Berak, Sheila Courtney, Betty Baker, and Chris Parker are caught in perfect sequence as they cheer the team on in the Utica game.

Activities: A Cooperative Adventure in School Life

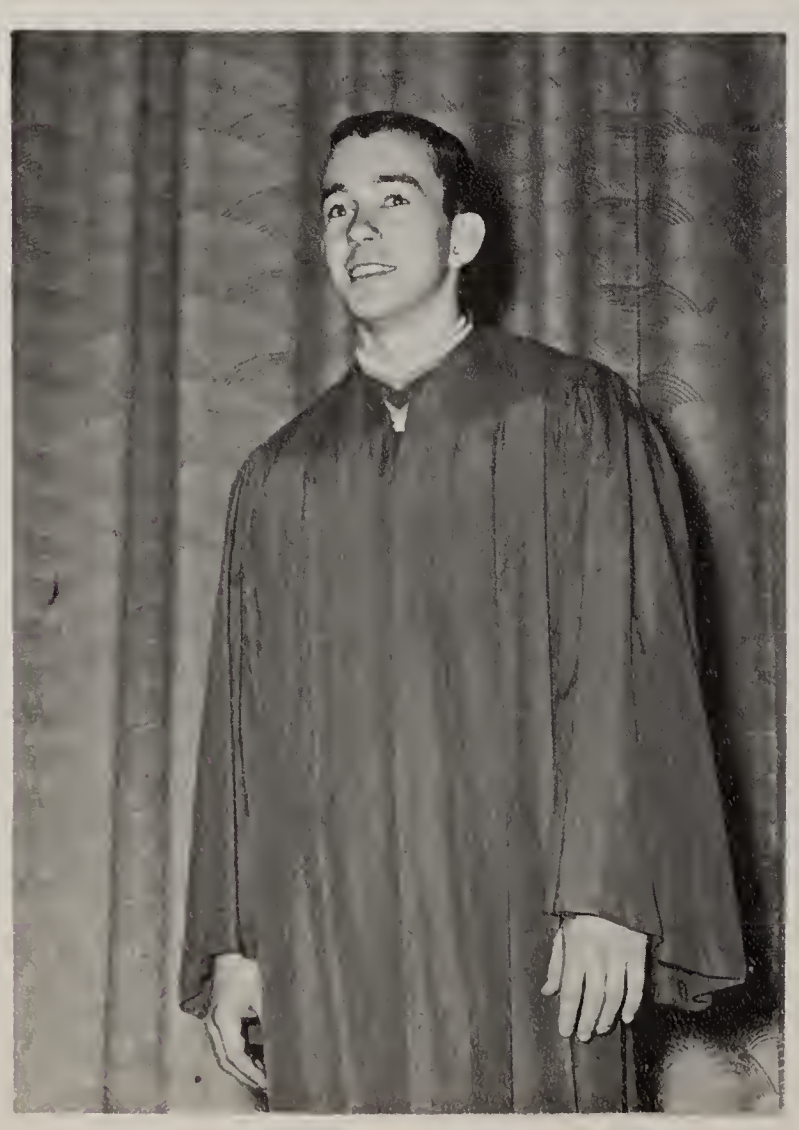
Along with the growth of Warren goes the boom in school activities. Over the year many new clubs have been added such as WYF, Art Club, and Chess Club. Also with this increase in the number of clubs several of the older clubs have more than doubled in membership. For example, the Pep Club which could barely get 50 members last year has over 160 this year. This sudden interest in the clubs and increase in membership was accomplished by having membership drives and informative assemblies to tell the school about the respective clubs. Through this increase in interest of school activities, school spirit, as a whole, took a sharp turn upward.

Pep Assemblies are certainly unpredictable! Here Curtis Mackie, Jim Stevens, and Dave Solce play the part of modern day cheerleaders in a skit about the history of cheerleaders.

Bob Verbal practices his speech on leadership which he gave at the National Honor Society induction assembly.



Assemblies

Over the year, educational as well as entertaining assemblies were given. Using a little ingenuity, many clubs got into the act this year by planning and giving assemblies to inform students of the activities of the club and possibly to acquire new members by arousing student interest.

Some of the assemblies given through the year were a Christmas program given by the chorus, pep assemblies, awards assemblies, the homemaking fashion show, an assembly on the Civil War, the FTA talent show, and the journalism assembly, just to name a few.

Is this a caveman from the pages of history? At a pep assembly, Ken Splatt demonstrates a cheer from the caveman days.

Below, giving the assembly which started off the two-week yearbook sale are Nancy Cook, Kathy Veramay, Sharon Sieczynski, Kathy DeMeere and Carol Sieradzki.

Student Council

The Student Council officers, Carol Schwarz (Hist.), Nancy McPharlin (Treas.), Carol Sieradzki (Vice-Pres.), Jim Stevens (Pres.), Sherry Lingle (Sec.), Dave Solce (Sgt.-at-Arms), and the sponsor, Mr. Gordon, discuss the agenda for the Council meetings.

Ironing out school problems, ratifying new constitutions, promoting school spirit, coordinating activities of all clubs, promoting leadership, and setting up a good assembly program are a few of the many responsibilities placed on the Student Council's shoulder. This is the only club which represents the whole student body and therefore can rightly be described as an outlet for student opinion. Any problems within the school can receive proper action by being brought up at one of the Council meetings.

The magazine drive was the Council's main fund-raising activity for the year. Half of the money earned was given to the scholarship fund. The rest was used at the Council's discretion, such as for the purchase of a multiplex for senior pictures.

Molding Minds . . . Building Futures

Future Teachers Club this year caught itself in a whirl of events. The main activities were aimed at giving members an idea of the various fields of education, such as elementary or secondary, as well as special services such as for the homebound, deaf, and retarded. At several of the meetings guest speakers gave talks on various fields of education.

When Christmas came around, the club members busied themselves by making stuffed animals for the Macomb County Children's Aid and Family Agency and by putting on a Christmas program for the homebound children.

As the year rolled by, the Future Teachers participated in such activities as visiting Eastern Michigan University, giving a Teaching Career Month Talent Show, and attending a county-wide FTA party.

A sense of achievement was felt when efforts to have a Bi-County FTA succeeded. Here, Mrs. Beer, Katy Rudnicki, the corresponding secretary of the Bi-County FTA, and Jim Baetz, the president, discuss plans.

Scientific Minds

Construction of the sun battery was one of the main achievements of the Science Club this year. The club chose such a project because of the importance of solar cells in today's world of satellites and space travel.

The purpose of the club is to get students of a common field of interest to work together and to learn more about science. Such activities as the building of the sun battery, the excursion to Cranbrook, and the trip to see the U. of M. atomic reactor, were all aimed at fulfilling the club's purpose.

The club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Nilis, held weekly meetings at which they worked on experiments dealing with branches of science.

Several Science Club members, Rosemary Bliem, Larry Pyles, John Telmet, and Paul Elder examine a reaction demonstrated by Mr. Nilis.

Other activities carried on by the club under Mr. DeClark's supervision were hunting, ice fishing, and attempts to establish a rifle range and archery range.

The Future Nurses Club is an organization which helps furnish insight into the various fields of medicine by showing the students what is actually demanded of the medical professions.

Such activities as the visits to G.M. Tech's Medical Center, to U of M's Medical Center, and to Southlake High School to listen to a talk on Navy Nursing helped stir individual interests. Other activities were making Christmas baskets for needy families and working in Blood Banks.

Not Strictly Cultural . . .

Latin Club and French Club strive to attain common goals. These clubs were established to enable language students to participate together in activities of common interests dealing with their foreign language. This year a union between the two clubs was attempted through a dual picnic. The clubs also made a trip to Toledo in February to visit the Versailles Exhibit, a display of French paintings and furniture.

Social as well as cultural activities made up the Latin Club calendar. The Latin Club banquet, one of the first social activities, proved to be an eventful occasion as many of the members who were initiated verified.

The newly established French Club may have had a slow beginning but had a pretty active schedule during the second semester. The club's splash party was the start of the chain of French Club activities.

As part of the entertainment program for the banquet Dennis Susick, Gene Genest, Dave Solce, and Russel Reiterman add a modern touch to the re-enactment of the death of Caesar.

School Spirit

The Pep Club, largest organization in Warren High with 180 members, worked exceptionally hard to boost school spirit this year. To keep it high the club indulged itself in numerous activities such as the selling of decals to build school pride, painting of signs urging the student body to support our team, and attending games, setting themselves as an example for others to follow.

This year the club gave a disc jockey dance to honor the football team at the close of the season. It was a first for the club and by the success of the dance it certainly will not be a last.

A group of Pepsters help bolster spirit by making posters at the weekly poster meetings.

Determination,

Four ambitious members, Mary Schmidt, Betty Fuddle, Gaye Hass, and Tim Venaleck are shown helping out at a car wash, put on to earn money for their Washington trip.

The educational club, Warren Youth for Friendship, is striving for a better understanding between the teenagers of forcign countries.

Many fund raising activities were held to make the visits to Lansing and Washington possible. These trips enabled them to learn the principles for which the U.S. government stands. With the knowledge of these principles, the representatives from Warren will be better prepared to explain the American ideas and customs to the Japanese tcens, whom they plan to visit in July. To make the future trip to Japan a success, WYF held sessions in which they learncd a basic knowledge of the Japanese people and their language.

Since the club needs the support of the parents in order to go to Japan, WYF held activities, such as the Japanese Tea, to acquaint the parents with the club.

W-Club, an organization composed of major letter winners, has many responsibilities placed on its shoulders. It helps initiate and sponsor all athletics; helps with the sale and distribution of tickets; sells refreshments at athletic events and in general helps promote interest and spirit in athletic events.

The W-Club also sponsored the noon hour program by supplying the equipment for such activities as dancing and ping pong through which the students are given a chance to burn off excess energy. Planning the intramural program in the spring also kept the members busy.

Selling refreshments at athletic events is a responsibility of the W-Club. Left: Pat McKenzie is selling cokes at a mid-season basketball game.

Hi-Y, Row One: M. Woltanski, D. Mills, K. Splatt, Mr. Veramay, L. Farhat (Treas.), E. Hole (Sec.), G. Boyle, D. Nagy, D. Brinker. Row Two: B. Studer, B. Clancy, L. Salci, F. Goodish (Sgt. at Arms), J. Schutzler (Pres.), B. Zabritski, D. Tiensivo, S. Schrader (Vice-Pres.), T. Wojciechowski.

Working, Promoting, and Achieving Good Citizenship

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to build better citizenship by working together. Every year the club sponsors a food drive, this year at Christmas, to aid needy families in the community. The spring campout is the big event of the year for the members. The weekend is filled with hiking, fishing, camp pranks; a memorable time for all.

The organization is affiliated with a national group, Young Men's Christian Association, which enables the members to use the facilities at the "Y".

Left, Ken Splatt, John Schutzler, and Earl Hole take inventory of the canned goods which were collected by the Hi-Y members and given to needy families.

After having gathered the necessary material, Linda Price and Tom Trott talk over plans for a debate.

Competition, Spark Setting Knowledge In Motion

Debate Squad, Row One: D. Perske, P. Lemley, T. Zalucki, L. Price, B. Chappel. Row Two: T. Trott, D. Cencich, G. Overby, L. Emlaw, Mr. Wirth. As these members will verify, being on the Debate Squad requires much work, mainly spending time in the library looking up information.

Making life less confusing is the main purpose of the Debate Squad. It enables a person to reason quickly, logically, and effectively to find hidden meanings in complicated plans and arguments and to converse ably and sensibly with others.

Creative Writing Club busies itself throughout the year with such activities as the book store, profits of which are given to the scholarship fund, the writing of papers to be submitted to the Scholastic Writing Contest, and the annual publication of the Club's Magazine "Quest."

Observation, Experience, First Steps to Knowledge

Theatrical experience is gained by both the Puppeteers and Thespians. The two clubs, however, have two different ways of getting this experience.

The Puppeteers through the year have made their own puppets and put on a puppet show in the spring for elementary schools of the area.

The Thespians' main activity was their play, "If a Man Answers," which was put on in the spring of the year. The club members also attended various theaters to gain a general knowledge of the types of theaters.

Ushering at Wayne State University was also on the Puppeteers' and Thespians' calendar of events.

Stage-Minded Youth

Success of dances, assemblies, programs and plays depends greatly on the Stage Crew which is in charge of lighting, sound, make-up, and stage sets. This year the Stage Crew has proved itself praiseworthy through its work for the senior and junior plays, the Aqua Gems' water show, and several Theatre Guild plays.

During the year the Stage Crew held an assembly to inform the student body of the work of the club and thus stir others to become interested in joining. Ushering at Wayne State University and touring the University's theatre were some of the other activities of the club.

Speech Guild may be referred to as the shoe string which keeps Thespians, Debate, and Stage Crew tied together. This guild, which is composed of the presidents of the three above mentioned clubs, acts as the coordinator of the actions and activities the clubs carry on.

The main activity sponsored by the Speech Guild is the annual banquet at which students of the member clubs receive awards they have earned.

Speech Guild, Row One: J. Baetz, L. Stephens, Mr. Wirth. Row Two: B. Schmiel, C. Orr, D. Burg.

Aqua Gems are divided into groups according to abilities. Above are advanced members, clockwise from bottom: D. Lambert, C. Sewell, K. MacKay, S. Shirk, S. Bullock, S. Robbins, V. McCall, A. Boroz, L. Smith, V. Vessanson, L. Protas, P. McKee, M. Woltanski.

"Fantasia," the, Aqua Gems' swim show highlighted the year's swim club events. The success of the show was the best reward the Aqua Gems could receive for their many hours of planning and practice.

The creativeness, determination, swimming talcnt and the guidancc of the sponsor, Miss Bottomley, all helped to produce the fanciful, highly imaginative swim show.

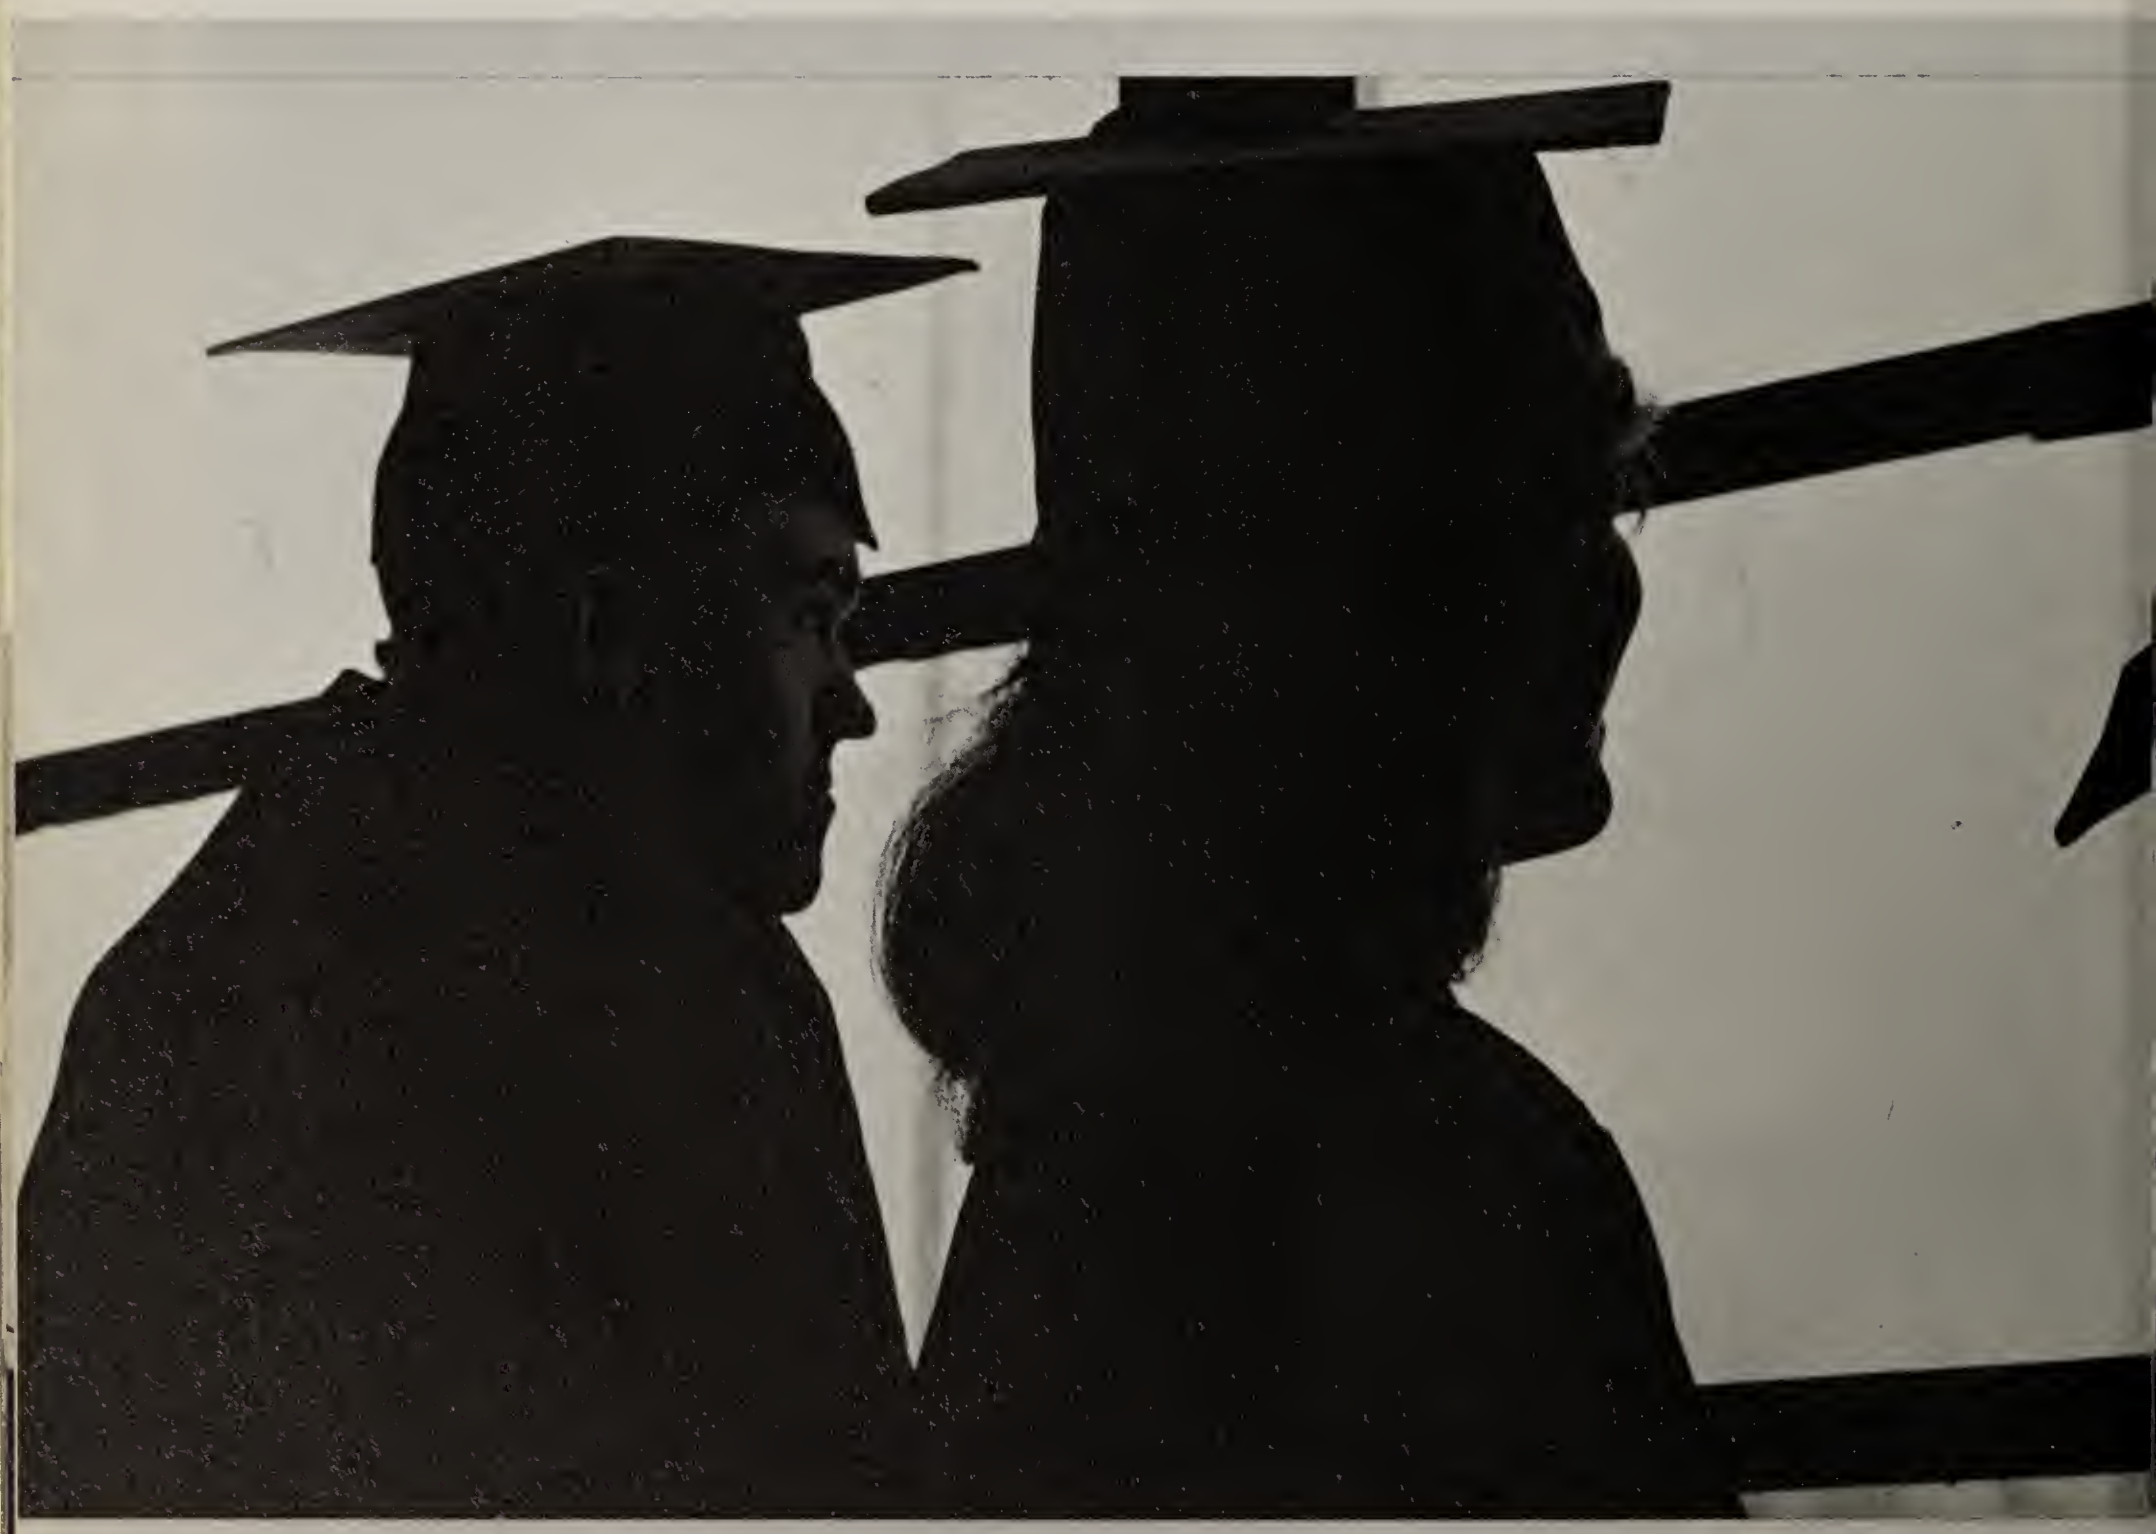
The swim show, however, is not the extent of the club's activities. The Aqua Gems attended Eastern Michigan University's Synchronizcd Swimming Clinic in December. Ideas gained from the clinic helped the club to plan the January clinic held at Warren's pool for the schools of the surrounding areas.

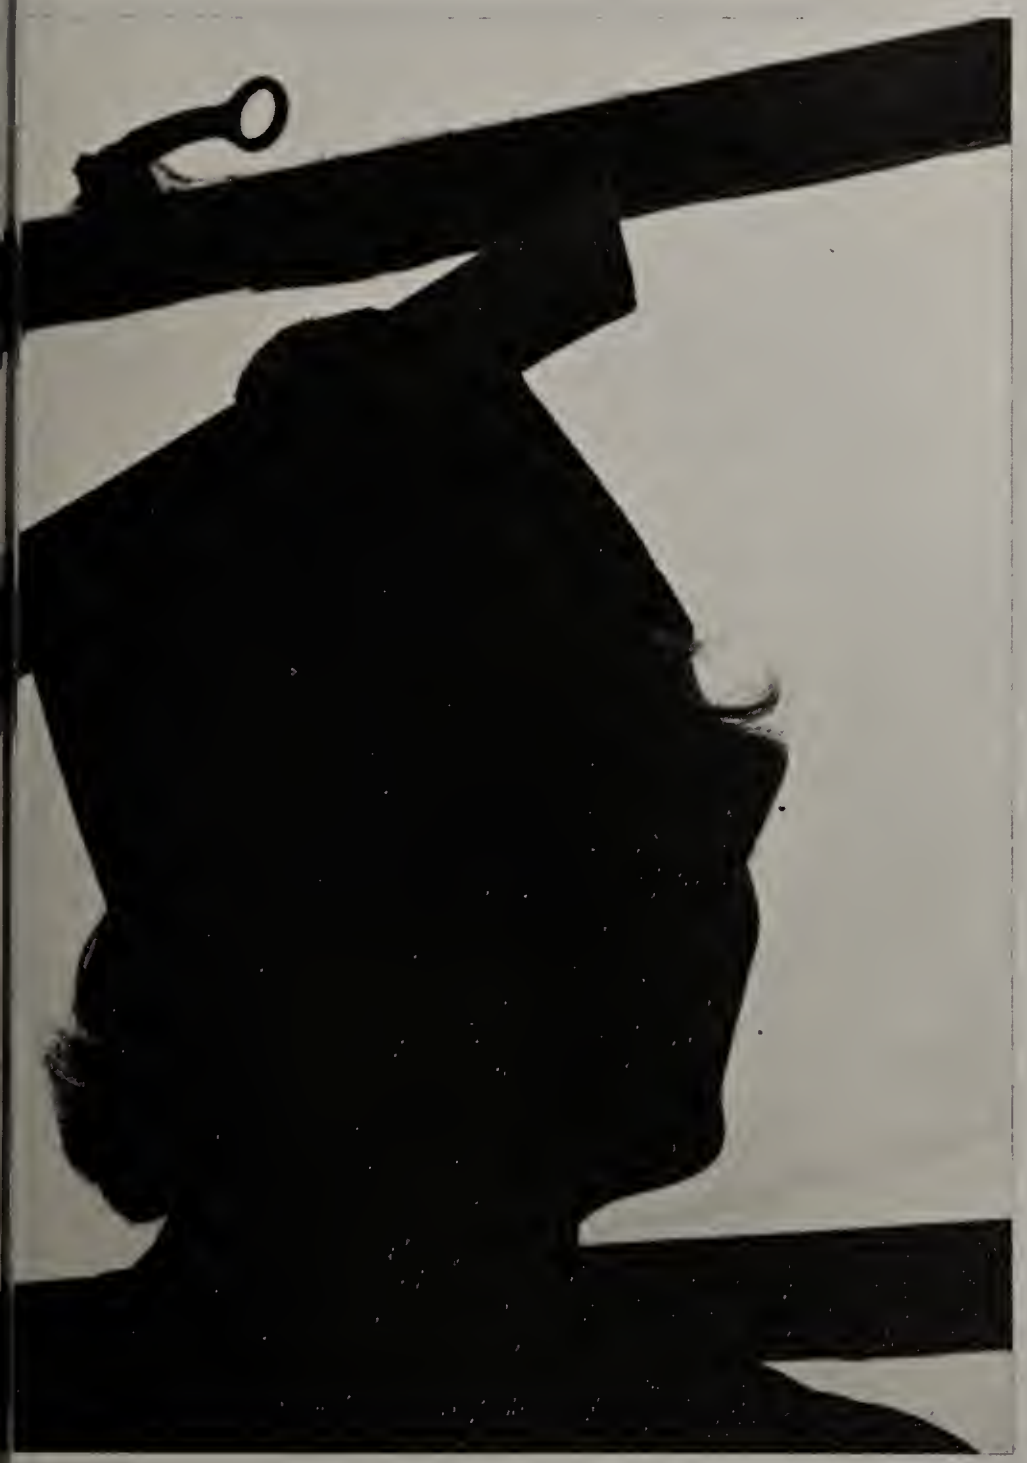
Several of the members also put on a synchronized swimming demonstration at Cody High School to introduce synchronized swimming to the interested girls from that school.

Marlin Club, Row One: M. Tuttle, R. Sterling, D. Meyers. Row Two: C. Bonds, C. Wolan, C. Schwarz, P. Schuster.

The very advanced group, The Marlin Club, including Carol Evans not shown in the group shot, practice floating formations for the swim show.

Largest Class Meets Larger World





The graduating class of 1963 is the largest class to graduate so far from Warren High School.

At graduation a number of us will take time to ponder the future. We will enter into many different segments of life — college, business, marriage, and many others. Our paths may never cross again, but we will think back to how Warren High School has contributed to our knowledge and personality in a hundred different ways in the last four years. From a ninth grade freshman wondering and afraid in the halls of WHS we have grown to know and love every inch of the school. Yes, we have become worthy and proud that we were students of Warren High School.

"A little tight, isn't it Ilene", quips Mr. Killoran.

Seniors are often found relaxing in the lounge.

They Were Seniors

The greatest year of all began in September, 1962. With the arrival of class sweaters that came a little large this year, the Class of '63 was ready for its senior year. Many smiling faces posed for senior pictures through a hectic week of confusion. "Where's Charlie" was the first musical produced by a senior class. It seemed we could never remember to pay the last few dollars on those "all important" class dues. The student lounge still remained our haven where we could always go to find relaxation.

June 13, 1963, will always be a memorable day for the Class of '63. It was a day of reward and happiness when the seniors received their diplomas. The thought of never seeing most of their classmates again cast a sadness over the day. But their memories will always remain with them and most of all they will remember that they were seniors.

22 Members

Twenty-two seniors of the Class of '63 proved themselves worthy of membership in the Henry L. Claey Chapter of the National Honor Society. Among the biggest events of the year for the organization was the preparation for homecoming. Homecoming found the NHS members hard at work making a float, beautifully decorated in red and white, to host the queen and her court as they traveled around the field.

Juhan Telmet, Lois Tacia, and Louise Saaranen busy themselves decorating the National Honor Society float which will carry the homecoming queen and her court.

National and international situations were covered by the American Government classes. In Economics the students learned such things as the stock markets, business cycles, and budgeting. Stocks and bonds sparked enthusiastic interest throughout the year, while tax forms baffled would-be taxpayers. Make-believe marriages aided students in understanding how to budget family earnings.

Constant Battle Between Fashion and Studies

Senior English is always an important class for those students who plan to attend college. The advanced English course offers students the opportunity to further their knowledge of early classics of English literature. Taking weekly vocabulary tests and reading three selected novels are a few of the requirements of the class.

With the help of Mr. Killoran and Mr. Wagner the students may gain additional help on special projects. The Shakespearean play, "Macbeth," is the highlight of the course.

Production of the high school newspaper and yearbook constitutes the course of study in senior journalism. Senior journalism students are required to have successfully completed the first year of journalism where basic rules and procedures of journalism are taught.

Requirements for the senior newspaper staff are similar to those of the yearbook staff. This year's staff overcame several difficulties to reach a smooth standard of production and a reliable schedule. Journalism staff members are (left to right, row one) Kathy Robertson, Nancy Cook, Kathy De Meere, Kathy Veramay, Carol Sieradzki, and (row two) Sandra Nitz, Linda Pfankuch, Bernadine Basta, Karen Larkin, Jim Stevens, and Mr. Thompson.

As part of their advertising campaign the yearbook sponsored a subscription drive dance (right) complete with disc jockey.

The Modern World of Advertising

As the city of Warren grew so did business establishments. New and modern buildings are being constructed every day.

The small grocery store has now become a large supermarket, the restaurant which was able to hold 25 people has been remodeled and now can hold 200 people. The jewelry shop that carried rings and watches now carries nearly every new and modern appliance. Through advertising many new establishments have gained more customers, thus boosting sales and business. Advertising has helped both the proprietor and consumer in expansion of new establishments.
